

RUSSIAN CITIES AT MERCY OF THE STRIKERS

ST. PETERSBURG, November 15, 5:35 p. m.—Sensational reports were current late this afternoon that the "Black Hundred" had been rioting on the Viborg side of the river and that great disorders were in progress in the Alexandrovsky (the Jew market) quarter on the Sadovaya, but investigation failed to confirm the rumors.

ST. PETERSBURG, November 15, 5:30 p. m.—The Associated Press is informed from a high source that a ukase will be issued positively tonight whereby a large portion of the Imperial domain which covers almost a third of European Russia and which at present is the property of the Emperor and Grand Dukes, will be given to the peasants.

CHEERED PRESIDENT AT OFFICE

Business Men Delighted at Stand of the Executive.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—President Roosevelt was asked today to use his influence to have the customs duties on hides removed in the interest of all the people of the country.

A delegation of boot and shoe and leather manufacturers, headed by Governor W. L. Douglas, of Massachusetts, called on the President by appointment and discussed with him pretty fully the proposed repeal of the duty on hides. The delegation numbered 25 men, the majority being from New York and the West and the minority from the New England States. In the course of the interview the President spoke so freely and frankly and sincerely to his callers that they burst into cheers that made the executive office ring.

After the delegation had presented its views and its desires to the President, he told the members that, as a matter of concrete fact, the whole subject was one with which Congress must deal and he strongly impressed upon them that any action in the matter must originate in Congress.

At the conclusion of the conference, W. E. Rice, of the firm of Rice & Hutchins, of Boston, made a statement to the newspaper men of the result of the interview. He said:

"We represent the majority of the leather, tanning and boot and shoe interests of the United States. We decided to request the President to assist us in procuring legislation placing hides on the free list and to reduce the duty on sole leather to 10 per cent, where the McKinley law placed it. I think every man present was impressed with the President's desire to do the square thing by us."

"I will go away from here with a good deal of courage that something will be done now that the ball has been started to rolling."

Subsequent to the departure of the delegation from the White House, President Roosevelt authorized the publication of his remarks.

RAILROAD MAN TAKES HIS LIFE IN SOUTH

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Cal., Nov. 15.—W. M. Bates, car inspector of the Southern Pacific Railroad, committed suicide near the I. O. O. F. cemetery during last night. His body was found this morning by Dispatcher Sims, of the Pacific Coast Railway.

The bullet entered the right temple.

The revolver was found near the body. The deceased came from San Francisco a week ago, and was not well known here.

The coroner's jury rendered a verdict of suicide. Two letters addressed to Bates are at the Laughery House. One is postmarked Pasadena, addressed 2171 Howard street, San Francisco, and re-directed to San Luis Obispo. The other is postmarked Sacramento, and addressed direct here.

HARRIMAN ON THE STAND

Tells of a Big Deal He Talked Over With Hyde.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—E. H. Harriman, president of the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific Railways, was called to the stand in the insurance investigation this afternoon.

Mr. Harriman testified that a five per cent participation in Union Pacific syndicate was offered to James H. Hyde, but Mr. Hyde said he could not sign such a large thing, and that he would interest the Equitable Life. Mr. Harriman said he did not want the Equitable in the syndicate unless his confidence could be guarded.

Mr. Harriman said he thought, it was perfectly proper for the Equitable Life to buy the Union Pacific stock under an agreement not to sell it for five years. He knew none of Mr. Hyde's personal money was interested in the syndicate, but he had Mr. Hyde sign the syndicate agreement in his (Hyde's) individual capacity because nobody would want to go into a syndicate with a corporation.

Mr. Harriman said that Mr. Hyde came to him and asked him to use his influence with Governor Odell in settling the suit against the Mercantile Trust Company.

Upon having Mr. Hyde's testimony read to him Mr. Harriman denied that he had suggested to Mr. Hyde the danger of the repeal of the Mercantile Trust charter, directly or indirectly.

Mr. Harriman said Mr. Hyde came to him a year ago and asked witness to use his influence to have him appointed Ambassador to France. Mr. Harriman said he told Mr. Hyde that when he saw the president he would speak to him about it. Asked if he recommended Mr. Hyde, Mr. Harriman replied: "No, sir."

Mr. Harriman said he never advised Mr. Hyde to sell his stock until after the report of the Frick committee. He also said he offered to subscribe $500,000 to help Mr. Hyde retain his stock.

Mr. Harriman said the Frick committee never mentioned the Union Pacific deal, but included the matter under the statement that Mr. Hyde had committed the society in unwarrantable transactions without the knowledge of the committee.

Both the sailors and the fortress artillerymen participated in the outbreaks. The commandant lost his head. The situation got beyond his control and energetic measures were not taken until a large part of the city had been destroyed.

The population is still seeking refuge on the vessels in the harbor.

According to one report from Vladivostok 300 rioters, mostly sailors and artillerymen, were killed or wounded during the first day of the outbreak.

PEOPLE ARE INFLAMED AND OFFICERS ARE HELPLESS

GREAT STRIKE IN PROGRESS

Bloodshed on a Large Scale is Now
Feared.

Workmen Are Demanding
That Death Sentences
be Set Aside.

A large meeting of workmen is being held at which the most incendiary speeches are being made and resolutions adopted. The following are samples:

"We do not believe in the partial constitutionalism of Count Witte or in the lying representations of the Liberal Bourgeois. We see only thousands of corpses and thousands of wounded and beaten persons and the seas of blood that have flowed. We will continue the struggle for the amelioration of our position, the immediate apportionment of the land to the tillers of the soil, the liberation of every political prisoner and the establishment of a Democratic Republic."

"We appeal to our brothers, the peasants, to aid in the struggle."

"Our watchword is 'Bread to the workman; land to the peasants; liberty to the people; down with absolutism.'"

"We express sympathy with our comrades at Cronstadt. If the Government dares to execute them the proletariat will rise and the blood of the sailor heroes will be drowned in the blood of their butchers, the infamous servants of absolutism."

"Glory to the dead who fought for liberty! Down with the tyrants."

Later it was definitely announced that the composers had struck.

SCENE AT DEPOT AT ONE OF THE RAILROAD STRIKES IN RUSSIA.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 15.—The Proletariat of St. Petersburg has summoned another general political strike beginning today at noon. This action was decided upon late last night by the workmen's strike committee, which now is completely under the domination of the social revolutionists, whose leaders proclaim that their ultimate object is the complete overthrow of the monarchy and the establishment of a Democratic Republic.

POLISH AUTONOMY.

This also is the real aim of their brothers, the social Democrats of Poland, but the proclamation issued keeps this in the background and apparently supports the popular sympathy for Polish autonomy and the indignation against the application of the death sentence being imposed on the Cronstadt mutineers.

THE PROCLAMATION.

The proclamation says: "The Imperial Government continues to walk over our corpses. It courtmartializes the bold soldiers and sailors of Cronstadt who die in defense of their rights and national freedom. It encircles weak and oppressed Poland with the iron ring of martial law."

"The workmen's council calls on the revolutionary proletariat of St. Petersburg to renew the general political strike which has already demonstrated its dread power in order to show brotherly solidarity with the revolutionary soldiers and sailors, as well as with the revolutionary proletariat of Poland. Let the workmen of St. Petersburg cease work at noon, November 15, with the cries of 'down with the court-martial'; 'down with the death penalty'; 'down with martial law in Poland and in all Russia.'"

APPEAL TO STRIKE.

The committee has appealed to the strike committee throughout Russia to join the movement and also appealed to the railroad men with the view to bringing about another general tie-up. One of the most potent arguments used at the meeting of the workmen's delegates last night was that in this fight the workmen will direct their efforts in behalf of the lives of the mutineers to increase the sympathy felt for the workmen's cause and help them to win over the army and navy to the cause of freedom. Some of the delegates, having the great question of economy uppermost in their minds, namely, how to increase their incomes with diminished labor, protested that the present strike would interfere with the fight for an eight-hour day, but they were rudely waved aside by the majority, who said there would be time enough to deal with economic questions when

MOUSTACHE ROAST IS NOW THE ISSUE FOR HIS BROTHER

It May Decide the Fate of Captain Petersen.

Considerable wonderment has been expressed that the Board of Police and Fire Commissioners, before whom Captain of Police Petersen was tried on a charge of having been drunk in San Francisco, has not returned its verdict either exculpating the police officer or finding him guilty. It was thought surely that Captain Petersen would be exonerated at to-day's meeting of the Commissioners.

NO FINDINGS.

When asked why the findings in the trial have not been made public the Commissioners state that the typewritten record of the trial is now before them. This excuse while apparently good, is said not to be the real reason of delay. There are discrepancies in testimony.

Heretofore these discrepancies have all been credited to the three San Francisco witnesses, who said they had seen Petersen drunk.

SERIOUS DISCREPANCY.

It now develops that Mayor Mott believes there is a serious discrepancy in Captain Petersen's testimony and that is the reason the Commissioners have not made their final report.

Policeman Frank de Grancourt of San Francisco testified positively that Captain Petersen wore a moustache when he is alleged to have flourished a revolver at the ferry depot while suffering from alcoholic excess.

Captain Petersen swears that he has not worn a moustache for two years.

Mayor Mott is alleged to have in his possession a photograph of Captain Petersen taken aboard the ferry steamer San Francisco last May, two months after Petersen is alleged to have been intoxicated in San Francisco.

This photograph has been placed in the hands of Mayor Mott and is said to be one of the things which has caused the delay in either declaring Petersen to be innocent or finding him guilty.

Captain Petersen's standing in church circles and his good reputation were thought to outweigh the testimony of Frank de Grancourt. J. F. Welch and M. Morris, the three San Francisco policemen who swore they saw Petersen drunk.

Mayor Mott will not return from Chio until Friday. Upon very good authority it is known that the Mayor has been moved considerably by the photograph which shows Petersen's upper lip covered with a hirsute growth.

The photograph corroborates the testimony of the San Francisco police and contradicts the statement of Petersen. Whether this fact will warrant further trial remains to be seen.

HELD TO ANSWER

FOR BIKE THEFT

William Lamereux, a Berkeley youth, arrested on a charge of stealing a bicycle in this city and attempting to dispose of the wheel to Otto Putker, in Berkeley, was this morning held to answer for trial to the Superior Court on a charge of grand larceny by Police Judge Smith. His bail was fixed at $2000. Lamereux was arrested as the result of a clever ruse. When he broached Putker with the proposition of selling the stolen bicycle the prospective purchaser became suspicious. He excused himself for a moment and telephoned Marshal Volmer. He then engaged Lamereux's attention by haggling over the price to be paid for the wheel. In due time Marshal Volmer arrived and arrested the alleged owner of the wheel.

AGED WOMAN DIES.

Mrs. Isabella Perkins, aged 81 years, died yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. B. F. Mauser, 521 Thirty-second street. The deceased was a native of England. The arrangements for the funeral have not yet been announced.

The following remarkable letter written by August Mangin to his brother, Eugene, was read to the jury this morning in the trial of the will contest over the estate of the late August Mangin Sr. The purpose of the letter was to show the jury the state of mind of August Mangin towards his brother long prior to his father's death, and to show the means used to influence the father against the younger brother to disinherit him.

The letter was admitted to be in the handwriting of the elder brother, and in it he accuses the younger one of almost all the crimes in the calendar, and, it is stated, tends to show that the older brother is not altogether right in his mind. The letter is as follows:

"Oakland, Cal., May 7, 1902. E. L. Mangin—Father was dumbfounded yesterday to receive from you a letter bearing your name, the name of him you took at birth and dishonored in the high tide of life. It is inconceivable to think that you, in the light of reason and in the face of facts, could have entertained in mind a contemplation of writing such an epithet without taking a retrospective view of your past, or rather, without having forgotten yourself in writing here instead of to that nice friend."

TALKS OF PAST.

"Father certainly did not expect it, much less to guess its unintelligible contents. He cannot even now figure your audacity and absence of mind in the instrumentality of such a manuscript, devoid, as it is, of feeling for the feelings of the one receiving it. If you had but a dimpleful of brains, you would have looked back to your past, and then blushed with shame at the very thought of writing to him who carried you in his arms and raised you from a babe seventeen months of age to be, at the time you had as many years as you then had months, the willing tool of his greatest mortal enemies, the handle to the pan of an unhallowed conspiracy."

"Nor did it end, or commence there. At school you made an unsavory reputation for yourself in not wanting to study. You wanted to play. You were derelict in everything except wrong. At last, when you found yourself the telegraph pole among a lot of youngsters as advanced in the studies as you, you quit school against father's wish, and by choice became a plumber and the record you also made in that trade is sufficient."

HE QUIT SCHOOL.

"You quit three different times, to take it up again as many times, with a new boss. You know well the thefts you committed in that trade, especially in the M."

JAMES HAZEN HYDE TELLS OF INSURANCE ROW

History of Offers of Millions to Rid Concern of its Head and Directing Power.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—James Hazen Hyde was the first witness today before the Armstrong Committee in insurance investigation. He asked to correct his testimony of yesterday relative to offers for his stock. He said he did receive four offers besides that of Mr. Ryan. Two of these came from Mr. Harriman and Mr. Frick. He was offered $5,000,000 for his entire holdings and $2,500,000 for half of them. George Gould also made such an offer but these were all declined because witness did not think one man should control the society. Gage E. Tarbell made an offer and said he had a syndicate ready to buy the stock. George W. Young also offered to buy Mr. Hyde's stock. These were all verbal offers.

The largest price was $7,000,000 by George W. Young, former president of the United States Mortgage and Trust Company. Mr. Gould's offer was made first.

"That was in the beginning of the row," said Hyde, "it must have been in the beginning of February."

"The second offer was made by Mr. Frick a few moments before the first board meeting in February of $5,000,000 for the entire holdings, or of $2,500,000 for one-half of the holdings. I declined both of these offers as I did not think it was for the best interest of the society that I should then part with my stock or if I did part with it, I did not think it for the best interest of the society that one individual should control it."

"I had no idea of parting with my stock at that time. I offered to trustee it to the society for five years. That was at the beginning of this trouble. I offered to trustee it for five years and then afterwards offered it to the society to buy it and I then afterwards discovered the society did not have the right to buy it."

ANOTHER OFFER.

"What was the third offer?"

"The third offer was an offer of $1,000,000 from Mr. Tarbell. He informed me that he had a syndicate of gentlemen ready to purchase it. This was some time in February."

"What was the next offer?"

"Then I also received an offer from George W. Young of $7,000,000. I should say that was at the end of February or the beginning of March. I'm not sure of the exact date."

Mr. Hyde testified that the only offer for his stock made after the Frick report was Mr. Ryan's.

Reading from the acts of 1888, 1889 and 1870, incorporating the fire-proof warehousing company and amending the act to change the name to the Mercantile Loan and Warehouse Company, and subsequently in 1875 changing the name to the Mercantile Trust Company, Mr. Hughes brought out the story of the Mercantile Trust Company's charter. He then read a bill introduced by Senator Ambler in the Senate in March, 1904, to repeal all these acts and amendments. The effect of this bill it passed would have been to leave the Mercantile Trust Company without a charter.

MAKES DENIAL.

Mr. Hyde here made a statement denying that he or the Equitable Life Assurance Society had anything to do with, or any interest in the United States Shipbuilding Company or its security.

On March 18, 1901, the Equitable Life Assurance Society bought 2,000 shares of the Lawyers' Title Insurance Company at $174 per share, and two days later sold 100 shares at the same price to George H. Squire. Mr. Hyde said he did not know of the sale, though he was a member of the executive committee, and did not know that the stock was worth a great deal more a short time after. Mr. Hyde said he sold to the society on October 12, 1904, 238 shares of this stock at $15, and that was the only transaction he had in that stock. The price was the market price at that time.

Stocks were bought on Mr. Hyde's account from Williamson H. Squire, but Mr. Hyde denied that he had bought from them, and said that no one had his power of attorney. He knew brokers were picking up this stock, but did not know it was being bought for any of his own committee.

Some of the purchases, he said, were made for Thomas D. Jordan, but Mr. Hyde knew nothing about it, and never had any conversation with Mr. Jordan upon it.

HIS FIRST NEWS.

After the change of name from the American Deposit & Loan Company to the Equitable Trust Company, officers of the Equitable Life Assurance Society were buying the stock of the Lawyers' Title Insurance Company in the name of the American Deposit and Loan Company, and taking the profits on the stock. This was the first Mr. Hyde had heard of this transaction.

Mr. Hyde said he could not remember that he had ever received any money or division of profits from George H. Squire, and it would be difficult to refresh his memory because his books have been in a most confused state since he left the Equitable Life. He did not know that it was possible for Squire to sell stock to the society without the knowledge of the executive committee, but though it could be done by an arrangement with the president.

PAPERS DESTROYED.

Mr. Hyde said he was unable to ascertain who had his power of attorney while he was abroad, because when he returned the papers were always destroyed. Senator Armstrong asked the witness if any obligation purporting to have been made at a time when Mr. Hyde was abroad should turn up now, how he could determine if it was a legitimate transaction. Mr. Hyde replied:

HYDE'S EXPENSES.

"I don't know; it would be very embarrassing."

The amount of expenses incurred by Mr. Hyde on behalf of the society was not gone into, Mr. Hughes announcing that this matter was covered in the report of Superintendent Hendricks, and it was not his purpose to go into matters so covered because of the limitation of the committee's time.

Mr. Hyde added to his statement in that report an explanation of the care used in making up the report of these expenses. He said that he would have been glad at any time to have gone over these expenses with any of the members of the executive committee, but he was never asked a question about them, nor was he ever asked for an itemized account of them.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Former Governor B. B. Odell Jr., today requested Chairman Armstrong of the Insurance Investigating Committee, to call him before the committee and give him an opportunity to testify under oath in reply to the testimony of Mr. Hyde, given before the committee.

BASEBALL GAME FOR SWEET CHARITY

The wholesale and retail dealers in coal will participate in a game of baseball, to be played at Freeman's Park on Thanksgiving, for the benefit of the West Oakland Home. The wholesalers are managed by John Nagle and the retailers have placed themselves under the direction of George Cockerton.

The women patronesses of the West Oakland Home have taken an immense amount of interest in the game and are cheering the players on. The respective teams as best they know how, it is assumed that several new ways will be discovered for catching the ball—in the pit of the stomach and on the ends of the fingers—but as it is all for sweet charity, that will not matter. A good crowd is expected to be in attendance.

FOUND GUILTY.

George Kelly, a denizen of West Oakland who enjoys an intimate acquaintance with the police, was found guilty this morning of battery on nine-year-old Harry Cause and also of being drunk on the same day. Kelly will come up for sentence on both charges tomorrow morning.

The testimony showed that Kelly gave chase to the youngster after the passage of a few remarks, and catching the child, threatened him.

PEOPLE ARE INFLAMED AND OFFICERS ARE HELPLESS

they had finished with the auto-cracy.

STRIKE COMMENCES.

The strike commenced promptly on the Baltic and Warsaw Railways and it is announced that all the others will follow suit. Although the workmen of many of the big establishments beyond the Moscow and Narva gates and in the Neva and Vasilia Ostroff districts promised to obey the strike mandate, those of the public offices and other factories declined to join in the strike. The various professional organizations which participated in the other general strike are also lukewarm, regarding the decision of the workmen's committee as hasty and ill-advised. Nevertheless, in the present excited state of public opinion they may be swept off their feet, especially should some untoward incident occur.

GOVERNMENT'S POSITION.

Should the general strike again spread over the country the government's position might be rendered desperate. It is important now to deal with many of the questions confronting it and might be terrorized into making further concessions. The ancient Kingdom of Georgia, following the lead of Finland and Poland, has now picked up courage and has demanded autonomy.

PEOPLE INFLAMED

The attempt to restore order in the Government of Kutais, Trans-Caucasia, with Russian troops has so inflamed the populace that the municipal council of Kutais, capital of the government of that name, has telegraphed to both Count Witte and the Viceroy, advising against further attempts to coercion.

At the Sagalli Works there was a fight between strikers and anti-strikers, during which four men were killed and ten were wounded with knives.

LIGHTS TO GO OUT.

The electric lights will be shut off this evening and the city will again be in darkness tonight. The car drivers and cabmen have also been asked to join in the strike.

The suddenness and magnitude of the movement has terrorized the inhabitants and has caught the government as usual unprepared. The streets are already full of Cossacks, cavalry and infantry, but the authorities in the face of such a gigantic revolutionary demonstration seem to be hesitating over what course to pursue. Inasmuch as thousands of arms were bought and distributed during the last few days under cover of providing for defense against the "black hundred," the danger of bloodshed on a large scale should the troops fire is greatly increased. The revolutionary leaders boldly boast that the people are now better prepared and better armed for a conflict. Moreover, they assert confidently that they know positively that soldiers of several of the guard regiments will refuse to fire upon the people.

MILLS TO SHUT DOWN.

The English mill owners at a meeting this afternoon decided to shut down indefinitely and it is impossible to attempt to continue work while the political revolutionary spirit prevails. At the embassies the situation was regarded as much more serious than ever before. Genuine alarm is manifested as to whether the government will be able to meet the impending crisis. Measures are being taken, but their nature is not disclosed.

GERMAN TROOPS.

The report that Germany is massing troops on the Polish frontier is said to be confirmed from high sources and it is understood that German warships are being made ready to come into the Neva if necessary, and according to reports land troops to protect the lives of foreigners should the mob get the upper-hand.

MURDER CHARGE DENIED

George W. Blaker Swears That He Did Not Strike Fatal Blow.

Q. Did you strike Tom Cook on July 22?

A. No.

Q. Did you hit him with a gaspelle or anything else?

A. No.

Q. Were you present when he was struck?

A. No.

Q. Did you on that date take anything from the person or possession of Thomas W. Cook?

A. No.

Such was the brief examination of George W. Blaker, on trial for the murder of Thomas W. Cook, this morning by his attorney, A. L. Frick. Spectators, of which the room was full, had settled themselves comfortably to listen to the story of Blaker when his name was called out as the first witness for the defense. He took the stand and the questions just stated were asked him and Frick announced that was all and turned him over to District Attorney Allen for cross-examination.

The District Attorney said that he did not care to examine him and Blaker came down from the witness stand, hardly a minute having elapsed in the time he was on the stand. There was little room for a satisfactory cross-examination of the defendant, but his denial is taken by the jury and he has taken the stand in his own defense.

Blaker's father and two sisters took the stand and testified to his age, and then Frick announced that he rested his case and an adjournment was taken until 2 o'clock when it is probable that the arguments will begin.

Captain Blaker, when he took the stand, stated that his son George was sixteen years of age and that the basement door of his house in Fruitvale was always open.

Mrs. Jennie Gogge, one of Blaker's sisters, the wife of a railway conductor, took the stand and testified that her brother was 16 years of age and that the basement door of the home was generally open.

Mrs. H. F. Quast, the other sister, testified that George Blaker was 16 years of age.

This was the entire defense put in by Attorney Frick to the charge of murder against Blaker. There was no cross-examination of any of the witnesses by District Attorney Allen and so far as the defendant is concerned, the testimony which has taken several days to introduce was answered in so many minutes.

From the line of questions asked by Frick in regard to the basement door it is probable that he will endeavor to argue that others might have hidden the money there beside Blaker, and that Schneider was accustomed to go there quite often and frequented the place. Both Schneider and Blaker have denied that they struck Cook, and now Blaker has put in his denial, and leaves a doubt as to which ones actually did take part in the actual striking down of the victim. There were but two blades found and the circumstances pointed to but two having done the deed. One in this both Blaker and Schneider, in their confessions, claim that they were the ones who ran.

A PRACTICAL HERO.

It is impossible to be too practical. There was a halo of heroism about a man whose doing is recalled by the death of Blaker. Michael, the Grand Duke, was seated in his tent at the siege of Plevna, when a Turkish gunner, a good luck of good management, threw a shell into the generalissimo's presence. Before it could explode in popped a raw-boned Russian gunner, who picked up the hissing shell and hurled it into the river. The grand duke called up the man. "Do you know that you have saved my life?" he said. "Since you have saved my life, I will reward you. I would you rather have 100 rubles than the honor of my general?" The man pondered for a moment. "What is the worth of the cross, my general?" he asked. "It is worth little intrinsically, perhaps not more than four or five rubles; it is the honor, not the money value, which counts."

That declared the soldier. "Then, my general, I would like the cross of St. George and 36 rubles."—From the St. James Gazette.

BARRED FROM CAMPUS

High Schools Cannot Use U. of C. Field Because of Fist Fight.

BERKELEY, November 13.—As the result of a free-for-all fist fight on the football field on the campus yesterday afternoon at the conclusion of the game between Berkeley and Alameda High School teams, Professor Edwards, chairman of the Faculty Committee on Athletics announced that all athletic events in which High School teams are interested, would hereafter be ruled off the University Campus.

Neither the football field or the Cinder path will be used by the preparatory schools' teams according to this ruling of Professor Edwards.

The disturbance yesterday afternoon was the result of ill feeling between the rival High School teams and threatened to degenerate into a fist fight when Professor Edwards and Professor Bacon appeared on the scene and quelled the disturbance.

ROAST FOR HIS BROTHER

cycle store. You know well the different incidents I allude to. At home, everywhere, you made a record of yourself that leaves a trail of shame in its wake. You well know that after your grandfather had been reinstated to capacity by Chapman's tricks and packed jury, that a mutual agreement was entered into by us, you fully concurring, that, as everything had been done to save grandfather's property from squander at the hands of the Cashmores, and, as everything had been performed that was possible to be done to restore him to his former position and independence, and as he had absolutely refused to assist father in his good work in freeing himself from their grasp, that we were to forever ignore him and consider him a grandfather in name only, to remember only the trouble and care he had caused father, to remember how he had perjured himself in behalf of the person robbing him against and baffling the good offices of him who was sacrificing everything in his behalf, without any remuneration whatsoever.

MET IN SECRET.

"And despite that declaration of fealty to that stipulation, you, by your own admission, secretly went into his company and saw him often without telling father anything at all about it."

"And you know that when that moral assassin, Wohlfrom, began that suit that you, right then and there, in his room, saw Wohlfrom and there solved and concocted the awful plot afterwards enacted in rewarding them who had brought that blasphemous act. Such conduct was the conduct of a demon, dispossessed of all filial affection, stripped of all that constitutes anything but degeneracy. You know full well that those moral perverts would not nor could not have won anything in court. They kept putting it off and off in their efforts to compromise and at last driven to a point of desperation at not being able to get anything, you, at their bidding, stole the immortal sum of $350.50 and settled it on your own responsibility, and to their entire satisfaction."

HONORED FATHER.

"You know full well how for weeks prior thereto you had hounded father into accepting your hellish plans, and when you saw that he would not reward his tormentor, you took it by stealth and illicit representations and never once divulged the fact that the compromise was prearranged and that you readily undertook the self-imposed task of robbing your own father in behalf of his enemies and tormentors."

"And what is worse, that after that theft was committed, you absolutely refused to help recover one cent of that which you had so wantonly and eagerly thrown away. You were his sole judge, you acted the part of a demon, you alone convicted him. To avoid being compelled to come into court, you hid the papers and receipt you had unlawfully and criminally caused to be signed and later went to Carson City, to remain there a month, only to send back letters about your rowdiness up there, but never a word about the money you purloined, much less to devise a means as to its recovery."

"And that was not all. It was not enough for you to have stolen by stealth money from under the parental roof, when the conspirators had arisen of one accord and their bomb carried by you had burst asunder in the form of a compromise, but you had the temptation to steal from your employers, and their employers, tools and miscellaneous articles of use to them only, the quantity of which, was so great, you remember the eight double

Handkerchiefs

A Blending of Elegance and Economy

Our exhibit of fine linen handkerchiefs is more beautiful than even we believed. It is impossible to grasp the full significance of such a vast collection of kerchiefs by seeing the items one or two at a time. The full realization comes only when a broad presentation groups the various classes of work into one large continuous picture, which compels admiration from all who see it. Our Broadway window is a picture of handkerchiefs at prices that make it wise for you to anticipate Holiday wants.

BROADWAY AT FOURTEENTH

loads, the seven rooms of our house, besides the cellar, were not large enough to contain all, but you had to use outside sheds and 'friends' and shacks to conceal it all.

GOLD COIN.

"To have stolen precious gold coin from the house and filled in that empty rified space with other thefts is demonstrative of your caliber as a monster. You cannot now state on single reason or act that father committed to prompt you in such awful designs in revenge. And when father ordered you to remove all of your loot off the place, you took it all to a certain young 'friend,' who does not live very far from the same young 'friend' corresponding with you now as ever."

"You, too, made the same progress at school. You two are well matched. We, too, know that 'friend' perfectly. I still carry his friendship in the form of a scar on my right fist. His mother exercised the powers of witchery over you. After your work, instead of offering father a little consolation in the evening, and on Sundays, you rushed to her place and stayed there, until 9 and 10 o'clock at night, with a friendly admonition by them that you be provided with a key and not a whip."

"And then at their bidding you wanted to become a Michael Angelo, as an artist, and when you saw that that did not work, you joined the navy, only to desert therefrom two months after. You are officially declared a deserter, and your rights to become a citizen are, therefore, forever banished and quashed. You again cannot cite one motive or reason why you committed such acts in revenge. And after playing the part of a renegade for seven long months in tropics in total silence, you have the notorious affront to write him and say that you heard from a 'friend' that he was sick."

"If he is sick, if he is bed-ridden, who else but you brought on that sickness, who else but you brought on his silvery hair and other afflictions? Who else but you convicted him on the court record of the very act of which he himself was the victim; who else but you ever struck him in the face at midnight; who else but you ever said that he was not your father, and the other numerous villainous acts of yours?"

"Even that friendly grandfather would not, in his lifetime, have sanctioned these contumacious deeds to yours. Your conduct almost brought father to the brink of the grave. Yours has been an outrageous realm of torment to him, and despite all these manifestations of dire wrong and crime, you manifest surprise at his sickness."

DEAR FATHER.

"You, also, have the notorious impudence to address him 'My Dear Father,' and close 'Your loving son,' after having repeatedly disclaimed any relation to him, after treating him as no brute of the lowest race ever treated its four-footed counterpart. How can he, therefore, listen to any talk about mediation and forgiveness without your rectifying your wrongs, not by word of mouth, but by acts? How are you to return every cent spent and lost in that suit; how are you to return father's functions to their normal degree; how are you to restore his hair to its natural color; how are you to compensate him for the worry he has had in street altercations and police complaints by virtue of your acts in dismissing that suit?"

"How are you to reset that case for trial; how are you to eliminate the court records, in which, by your acts, he is convicted of slander upon his own tormentor; how are you to return every tool to its rightful owner? These are but a few of the acts you will have to perform and solve before father can listen with other than deaf ears. A boy who brings shame on his parents will not hesitate to bring shame on himself. You have dishonored father, as well as poor mother in the grave."

"How dare you now speak of the home she left you in father's care? If you have any more lies to invent, if you have any more shame to give away when crime has reached its limit, refrain from sending any more home. Father has had enough. Send it to that 'friend.' A. C. MANGIN."

The joint exercises, he says, emphasized the appropriateness of the present company organization of the coast artillery and he recommends that the present company organization shall be abolished and that the present coast artillery be made consist of specified officers and enlisted men. He also recommends the separation of the field artillery from the coast artillery and that the field artillery be organized by regiments, six batteries each with an increase of eighteen in the present number of field batteries.

NEW YORK, November 15.—The examination of the election returns by the Board of Canvassers of New York County was delayed today by the adjournment of the board. It was decided to stop proceedings until noon, when the original sheets of all election districts are expected to be produced before the canvassers.

Justice Amend issued an order last night that these sheets should be given to the board, and his order was argued in the Supreme Court today.

Mayor McClellan joined with William H. Hearst today in requesting that the Supreme Court grant the application for mandamus to compel the production of the original sheets before the Board of County Canvassers. The application was granted as soon as the Mayor's request was made known at the argument before Justice Amend.

John H. Parker, speaking in behalf of the Mayor, said that Mr. McClellan desired that there should be full opportunity given to have the will of the voters as expressed on election day fully

COURT FINES HIM FOR BOYISH PRANK

James Pacheco, a youth who turned in a false fire alarm last Sunday, was given a severe lecture today by Police Judge Samuels and fined $10 for his indiscretion.

"I usually mete out a very severe sentence on occasions like this," said the court. "On account of your youth I will be lenient this time. I will, however, fine you sufficiently to remind you of the law the next time you feel inclined to play some foolhardy prank. It is the judgment of this court that you be fined $10."

Everybody Knows the Regal

It's a "six-dollar shoe at the wholesale price"—and everybody who wears it knows that, too.

Long wear, permanent shape, faultless modeling, first-class workmanship, first-grade leathers, perfect fit,—and more especially correct and distinctive style—have built up the Regal business from one store to one hundred and two.

Regal style is not a mere phrase. It's the direct result of our system of quick and faithful copying of the new models produced by famous custom bootmakers in Europe and in New York.

Hand-work has a good deal to do with the accurate copying, and the Regal system of quarter sizes adds the smoothness of made-to-order fit to the elegance of custom style.

Regal quarter sizes give you no less than 26 distinct styles to select from in each of the wide variety of Regal styles;—that is, quarter, half, and full sizes (varying only 1/8 of an inch) in each of our eight regular shoe widths.

Sixty-five Regal styles—and the regular price through the whole line, is $8.00 to $10.00. We sell you the latest styles at wholesale prices. We save up 10 special models at 50¢ per pair. We return 10 extra models to be used as your own line of shoes that we could never handle in the Regal line. The advantage of this special big reduction over the $6.00 to $8.00 cost of the shoe is that you get all of the better and other materials there are in the shoe. The shoe is made here a little more hand-work, so there are the latest made shoes, and our good workmanship adds 1/2 dollar again to the handsome appearance.

SENATOR MUST GO TO TRIAL

Judge States Why He Overruled Demurrer in Burton Case.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 15.—The trial of Senator Burton on the charge of having used his influence before the post-office in behalf of the Rialto Grain Securities Company of St. Louis to prevent the issuance of a fraud order against the company is set for next Monday.

The demurrer overruled by Judge Vandevanter was based on two counts in the indictment, and set forth the contention that Senator Burton had received compensation for services from a concern against which charges were pending was vague in that it did not specify the exact nature of the proceedings said to be pending.

The second objection raised in the demurrer was that it was not specifically stated in the indictment that Senator Burton knew of the proceedings against the company by the Postoffice Department when, it was alleged, he received compensation.

As to the first objection in the demurrer Judge Vandevanter said: "It seems to me that the fact charged was that a proceeding was pending. This same point was raised on the previous indictment and since then I have made a very close study of this feature of the case, and it seems to me that the proceeding is sufficiently described in the indictment. It is immaterial how the proceeding came to be pending. It is material only that a proceeding was pending."

As to the second objection, Judge Vandevanter said: "I am strongly persuaded that one could not receive compensation under these circumstances without knowing that proceedings were under way or were about to be begun."

Concluding his opinion he said: "As to the indictment in this case I am of the opinion that the District Attorney could not well have prepared an indictment more in accord with the requirements of the statute."

Attorneys representing Senator Burton this afternoon filed a plea in bar to prosecution under this indictment. This plea is based on the verdict in the trial of Senator Burton almost two years ago which found him guilty on certain charges in the indictment and not guilty on other charges. He was found not guilty of having received compensation from an officer of the Rialto Company. The plea in bar sets forth that having previously been acquitted on this specific charge he cannot a second time be placed in jeopardy for the same offense.

ton on next Friday for St. Louis where on Saturday he will address the business men of that city on Philippine affairs. On Monday November 20, he will be a guest at the annual banquet of the Commercial Club at Kansas City given in commemoration of the signing of the John Jay treaty. He will upon the latter occasion speak upon the Panama canal.

OREGON TO RETURN TO UNITED STATES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Orders have been given by the Navy Department for the return of the battleship Oregon from the Philippines to the United States at an early date. There is no indication that any battleship will be sent to the Asiatic station to replace the Oregon. It is stated however that two cruisers of the Denver class will be sent to the Philippines later on. The Oregon will bring back to the United States a crew of men whose enlistments are about to expire.

HIS STRONG POINT.

You seem to like Wagner in one respect I prefer him to all other composers.

Why so?

His music is most effective in drowning the conversation in the boxes—Houston Chronicle.

RETURN FROM NEW YORK AND TAKES UP BUSINESS MATTERS.

After a visit of several months in the East F. M. Smith head of the Realty Syndicate and the Oakland Traction Company, accompanied by his wife and several relatives, returned to his home in Oakland Monday evening.

The trip across the continent was made in the private car, "Falmouth," which was purchased by Mr. Smith before making his trip across the continent.

The car was at once sent to the West Oakland yards where it will be remodeled according to the ideas of Mr. and Mrs. Smith. It is expected that the car will be ready for use in the early spring when Mr. and Mrs. Smith intend to make another trip across the continent.

Upon returning to Oakland Mr. Smith went directly to the Syndicate office in San Francisco.

During his stay on the coast Mr. Smith will give his personal attention to working out details for many improvements that the Syndicate and Traction Company are contemplating.

DID MAN IMAGINE HOLDUP?

Tells of Meeting Masked Men; Police Say: "Bosh."

H. G. Elderson, who gives his address as 1518 Chestnut street, Alameda, reported to the police this morning that he was held up by two masked men on Harrison street between Twelfth and Thirteenth streets last night and relieved of $41 at the point of a revolver. The time of the alleged holdup is placed at 9:00 o'clock by the victim.

Detectives Kite and Lynch, who were detailed on the case are of the opinion that the imagination of Elderson played him a trick and that he confused the two masked men to appear before him.

The detectives state that they interviewed three persons who were standing at the exact spot when the alleged holdup is alleged to have occurred.

One of these men, William Luckey, driver for the chemical engine on Thirteenth street states that he saw nothing unusual and states it is his opinion that it would have been impossible for holdup to have occurred at that time without having been observed.

HOW TO BE HAPPY THOUGH MARRIED

LOGICAL ADAPTATION OF SHAKESPEARE IN OUR HOME LIFE

The poets have more than once furnished us with sound, logical ideas, which being applied to our everyday life, have proved both beneficial and useful. Shakespeare in the opening lines of "Twelfth Night" his famous comedy, play on "I'm the fool of love," which can be adapted in our homes, and being put in common everyday language would be: "Feed and thereby strengthen your domestic affections with music."

To do this it is necessary to have some kind of a musical instrument in the house. A piano is the most universal and popular in vogue today. There seems to be an idea among a lot of people that they cannot afford an instrument, as the prices and terms offered by the average dealer are such that they can only be taken advantage of by those in possession of large incomes.

The Elgers Music Company of 1076 Clay street, this city, are offering to the public a number of first class instruments (slightly used), bearing the names of leading factories in the United States at such ridiculously low prices and terms that it is within the means of everyone to possess a piano of their own. Of course there must be some reason for this. Being the biggest, busiest, and best exclusive piano house in the West, we possess a great many fine pianos that we take in part payment for new Hazelton's Kimball, Deckers, and our famous Autopianos. As our business is to deal in new, and not second-hand pianos we have no room for this stock and consequently are most anxious to dispose of same, no matter what the sacrifice.

A glance over the following list will convince you that you cannot well afford to miss this chance.

CHARGE WILL BE PROBED

Commissioners to Investigate Conduct of Jailor Bert Curtiss.

Chief of Police Hodgkins this morning advised the Board of Police and Fire Commissioners that Jailor Bert Curtiss had been accused by Arthur Lowe, a discharged prisoner of securing the gift of a manure set by intimidation. Lowe is alleged to have said that Curtiss threatened him with hard work if the manure set was not given and promised him an easy time if it was.

Commissioners Turner and McElroy the only members present expressed their opinion that there should be neither gifts or barter between jailors and prisoners. Lowe served eight months on two charges of petty larceny. The manure set was returned to him.

RADICAL MOVE IS A SURPRISE

AMERICAN RESIDENTS OF ISLE OF PINES ASSERT THEIR RIGHTS.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—It has been known for several months that American residents in the Isle of Pines were becoming restive under Cuban control but no intimation has been received in official circles here that they intended to resort to radical measures to assert what they believe to be their rights as Americans.

The announcement that at mass meetings of residents of the island delegates were chosen to come to Washington to antagonize the treaty pending before the Senate for the formal transfer of the island to the republic of Cuba was not surprising to administration officers but surprise was created at the reported election of a territorial government in the island and the selection of independent officials to administer the affairs of that government. It can be said that the would-be seceders will receive no encouragement from the administration.

Secretary of State Root when he was Secretary of War, was very clear and emphatic on the points that the Isle of Pines belonged to Cuba as a matter of right, as a matter of international law and as a matter of justice, furthermore that in procuring a naval station in Cuba for the United States there was a general understanding that the Isle of Pines was to be ceded to Cuba, although its title had been in doubt.

SECRETARY TAFT IN CONTROL

WILL STILL CONTINUE TO HAVE CHARGE OF PHILIPPINE AFFAIRS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Secretary Taft arrived in Washington from Hampton, Roads at 7 o'clock this morning. Immediately after breakfast he called at the executive office and saw the President when the latter came to the office.

Secretary Taft made it clear today that he had no intention of relinquishing supervision of Philippine affairs. During his temporary absence in Panama it was reported that matters relating to the Philippines were to be transferred to the State Department and hereafter be under the direction of Secretary Root.

That story said Secretary Taft "originated in the mind of the man who wrote it. There is absolutely no foundation for it whatever. The Secretary will leave Washington on next Friday for St. Louis where on Saturday he will address the business men of that city on Philippine affairs. On Monday November 20, he will be a guest at the annual banquet of the Commercial Club at Kansas City given in commemoration of the signing of the John Jay treaty. He will upon the latter occasion speak upon the Panama canal.

OREGON TO RETURN TO UNITED STATES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Orders have been given by the Navy Department for the return of the battleship Oregon from the Philippines to the United States at an early date. There is no indication that any battleship will be sent to the Asiatic station to replace the Oregon. It is stated however that two cruisers of the Denver class will be sent to the Philippines later on. The Oregon will bring back to the United States a crew of men whose enlistments are about to expire.

WHALING
DAMAGED

Arrives From Arctic Ocean
After Battle With Hurricane.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 15.—The whaling bark Andrew Hicks arrived today from the Arctic ocean.

She was wintered off the coast of Siberia, in comfort, but on October 27, while homeward bound, encountered a hurricane which threw her on her beam ends, and did considerable damage.

The whalers John N. Winthrop and the Gotama, which were also off the coast of Siberia through the winter, were probably out in the same storm, and fears are entertained for their safety.

The Hicks spoke them about the 1st of October, at which time all on board were well.

The Gotama then had four bone whales, while the Hicks got only two and the Winthrop three.

EWING'S
REPLY

Gambling Not Allowed at Oakland Baseball
Grounds.

Editor TRIBUNE.—An article was printed in your sporting column of the 14th inst. under the heading "Gambling at Ball Games" that places the owners of the Oakland Baseball club in an unfavorable light, inasmuch as the Oakland management has attempted to stamp out gambling at its grounds in its entirety and especially the taking and placing of bets by commission men.

During last season verbal requests were made to some five or six such commission men to discontinue this business and on their promise to do so they were permitted to enter the grounds on payment of the admission fee. We found that they were playing their wits in a quiet way and again requested them to stop the business.

At the beginning of this season, a letter was addressed to these different commission men to the effect that their presence in the grounds was a menace to the baseball business and hereafter they would not be permitted to attend the games. Since that time (the first of the season) there has been no open betting on the games at Idora Park, except as between two parties who may be sitting together, which cannot be stopped even though a man making a bet of ten ($10) dollars in a New York state is elected by a policeman. Was this the only ten ($10) dollar bet that was made in the stand that day? Such betting cannot be stopped unless the better becomes tolerant and attention is called to him on account of such conduct.

The conclusion drawn that the park owners are in with the gamblers (although San Francisco is mentioned especially) does not take away the indignation that the owners of the Oakland club are making a percentage out of such business.

The Oakland Club has never received one benefit from any privilege or right to conduct or in any way carry on a gambling business.

The signer of this reply is a stockholder in the Recreation Park of San Francisco and positively states that no privileges have ever been granted to commission men, and no payment has ever been received by the park association from any commission betting man. In conclusion will say that the stockholders of the Oakland Baseball Club are all men of standing in the City of Oakland and are thoroughly in accord with the action taken by the directors in stamping out the practice of betting on the ball games. Very truly,

J. CAL EWING,
Director, Oakland Association.

She says she has been given the money but once and then he offered her $50 if she would sign a deed with him transferring a piece of property they owned, and which she refused to do. Since then, she says, he has given her nothing, although he has been engaged in the real estate business and making a good living.

The exercises at the headquarters of Alcatraz Lodge No. 244, E. and A. M., which immediately followed the auction at Mr. Strauss' home, were most impressive. The remains in a massive casket and around them was displayed a wealth of floral tributes which is not often seen at the obsequies of a young man in this city. The display composed of broken wheels, squares and compasses, scales, a large number of crosses, a broken, closed account books, and sprays of indefinite variety which had been sent in by the employees of the several departments of the Heeseman store, Alcatraz Lodge, Oakland Lodge of Elks, the Association of Bookkeepers, and a large number of sorrowing friends.

The lodge-room was filled with members of the fraternal orders to which the deceased had belonged in life, as well as those who had long held him in esteem in personal and business transactions. Not a few of the spectators were women, who were most impressive. The remains in a massive casket and around them was displayed a wealth of floral tributes which is not often seen at the obsequies of a young man in this city. During the exercises, Alcatraz Masonic Vocal Quartet, comprising W. T. Crossman, H. Coates, H. M. Baker and J. J. At the grave the same organization rendered "Come Ye Disciples," "Good Night," and "At Rest."

The pallbearers were C. J. Heeseman, D. H. McLaughlin, J. W. Quinn, Frank R. Fladwell, Carl J. Schatz and James C. Zanna.

Mayor Says He Wants to Have a Clean Administration.

LOS ANGELES, November 15.—The next two days will be busy ones for Mayor Eugene B. Schmitz of San Francisco and his adviser, A. Ruef. The two arrived in the city last night from Santa Barbara, where they had been resting since Sunday. A reception committee representing a fraternal organization, of which he is a member, met the Mayor at the depot and headed by a union band and the members of his party were escorted to their hotel.

"Do you intend to be the next Governor of California?" Mayor Schmitz was asked when a reporter saw him in his room.

"Now, see here," he replied, "that is just like a reporter to ask such a question. I am only occupied now with being Mayor of San Francisco and this visit has no political significance. What I may want to do is not known to me now. I am not calculating on anything that is in the future. I cannot tell what time may bring about, and am not troubling myself about such possibilities."

"Well, then are you for Abe Ruef for United States Senator?" The Mayor sat back in his chair and laughed. "Mr. Ruef has not told me he is a candidate. There will be four years before a Senator is elected. I do not know that Mr. Ruef will then be a candidate, and I do not know whether I would then be for him if he were. All that I have come here for is rest. I always visit Southern California once a year. I love the South as much as I do the North, for I am a native of the State."

"I have an ambition, one that I am ready to talk about, and that is to give San Francisco the best administration the city has ever had. I will have men about me this time who will give me their support, and I am very grateful to the people for the way they have me. San Francisco will have peace and good government."

Ruef said when seen "Senator! Don't talk back."

Among Ruef's callers today was Walter P. Parker. Tonight the Labor Council will receive Mayor Schmitz.

Strauss, head-bookkeeper of Charles Heesman, the clothing store, who died last Sunday at the residence of his step father, Frank Smith, 938 Magnolia street, was held this afternoon from Alcatraz Hall, the afternoon session of the Alcatraz Lodge, No. 244, E. and A. M. The interment was in Mountain View Cemetery. The death of the young bookkeeper was keenly felt by his employer and his associates. The big store on Washington street was closed all day as a token of the esteem in which the deceased was held.

A large delegation from the fraternal orders of Masons and Elks were in attendance at the solemn obsequies beside a large number of friends and acquaintances. Brief private services were held at the family home before the funeral cortege moved to Alcatraz Hall. Flowers in profusion were sent to both the home and the hall. The services at the grave and the hall consisted of the Masonic ritual.

Mr. Strauss was a victim of consumption. Three months ago his employer Mr. Heesman noticed that the health of his bookkeeper was failing and ordered him to Arizona in the belief that the dry air would be conducive to his recovery. The change was not beneficial and word was soon received by friends that Mr. Strauss was failing rapidly. Mr. Heesman on the receipt of this news left at once for Arizona and brought his trusted and valued employee home on a stretcher after several days' confinement.

The deceased entered the employ of Mr. Heesman as a boy when the store was located on Broadway. By hard application to his work he rapidly rose in the estimation of his employer and was made head bookkeeper.

The exercises at the headquarters of Alcatraz Lodge No. 244, E. and A. M., which immediately followed the auction at Mr. Strauss' home, were most impressive. The remains in a massive casket and around them was displayed a wealth of floral tributes which is not often seen at the obsequies of a young man in this city. The display composed of broken wheels, squares and compasses, scales, a large number of crosses, a broken, closed account books, and sprays of indefinite variety which had been sent in by the employees of the several departments of the Heeseman store, Alcatraz Lodge, Oakland Lodge of Elks, the Association of Bookkeepers, and a large number of sorrowing friends.

During the exercises, Alcatraz Masonic Vocal Quartet, comprising W. T. Crossman, H. Coates, H. M. Baker and J. J. Williams, rendered in a sympathetic manner the following selections: "Abide With Me," "Nearer My God to Thee," "Coronation," and "The Lord's Prayer." At the grave the same organization rendered "Come Ye Disciples," "Good Night," and "At Rest."

The pallbearers were C. J. Heeseman, D. H. McLaughlin, J. W. Quinn, Frank R. Fladwell, Carl J. Schatz and James C. Zanna.

Presbyterians Get Into Fatal Quarrel With Chinese.

WASHINGTON, November 15.—No boycott, no race feeling, but a mere personal quarrel was the cause of the death of the five American Presbyterian missionaries recently at Lienchow, China, according to the report made today to Secretary Root by Sir Chen Tung Liang Chang, the Chinese minister here.

The minister had with him when he came to the State Department a copy of a long cablegram from the Viceroy of Kwang Tung and Kwang, bearing on this subject. The Viceroy reported that Dr. Machie and Miss Patterson, two of the missionaries who escaped massacre by reason of their temporary absence from Lien Chow, had just reached Canton under a strong Chinese guard. According to Dr. Machie, and his investigations were shared in by the American consul's agent, the anti-American boycott had nothing to do with the tragedy. The trouble arose from the holding of a Chinese festival and fair. As an incident to this fair, the Chinese erected a pavilion or booth, which the missionaries claimed overlapped the mission hospital compound several feet.

The missionaries requested the removal of that part of the building, but before this request could be complied with one of the missionaries went into the pavilion grounds and seized several small cannon, with which salutes were being fired as a part of the festival. These cannon were held to be sacred instruments by the Chinese.

They were finely chased with symbolic designs and gorgeously ornamented for this particular occasion. The Chinese believed that each discharge blew away or discharged certain malignant spirits hovering about the place. Consequently, according to the report, the seizure of the cannon created great indignation and then anger and the ill feeling culminated in the attack upon the missionaries, and their deaths.

FACE IS CAVED IN

John Hewitt, a horse clipper, was kicked in the face this afternoon by a fractious animal and the entire front of his face was smashed. His nose was broken, his cheek bones caved in and his jaw fractured.

Drs. Stratton, Ilgin and Moore attended the operation and stated that it was one of the worst fractures of the kind they ever saw.

It was with difficulty that Hewitt was able to talk, but he stated that he was at work about the horse which was somewhat impatient under the clipping and that as he was stooping down behind the animal it kicked him in such a way that the full force of the blow took effect in his face, the iron shoe striking both cheek bones and one of the corncs imbedding itself in his nose. He lives at 1014 Webster street.

THINK HE'S WORTH
SEVERAL FORTUNES

John Flister, living at 2101 Deacon street, in Berkeley, a coppersmith, was adjudged insane this morning and committed to Stockton asylum by Judge Harris. Mrs. Antonia Flister, his wife, stated that he owned a lot in Berkeley and that he imagined that he had all kinds of money and went and made a contract for the erection of a big building upon it, and was also talking about having other buildings put up. She says that his actions have already caused her considerable embarrassment. It was demonstrated to the Court's satisfaction that he was not in his right mind and the commitment was made out.

DOCTOR TO FIGHT
CHARGES

J. F. Todd, M. D. in the Police Court For Violating Auto Law.

Dr. J. F. Todd and his automobile were before Police Judge Samuels this morning on one charge against him and refusal to obey and also violating the law in reference to lights.

The medical man thought there was but one charge against him an unduly pleaded guilty, stating that he did not believe that he had violated the law. When the second charge, that of not having a light on his automobile, was read by Clerk John Mott, the doctor was staggered, but quickly came back.

"I will fight both cases, your Honor," he said with indignation in every word. "All right, doctor," said Judge Samuels. "I suppose you wish to withdraw your plea of guilty on the first charge."

"Yes, if that will allow me to fight the case."

Judge Samuels then set aside the plea and ordered both cases to go to trial tomorrow morning.

A HORSE THIS TIME.

Otto Bueglin confessed to Judge Samuels to having a speedy trotter and also to having given the horse all the reins last Monday on Twelfth street. Police Officer Hendon, who was on the lookout for automobiles, was not averse to putting his stop watch on the trotter, with the result that Bueglin was arrested for reckless driving. He forfeited $5.

Charles Elsey, E. Halberg and E. C. Farnham, automobilists, each forfeited $5.

Porte Given Twenty-Four Hours to Reply to Demand of Powers.

LONDON, Nov. 15.—It was ascertained at the Foreign Office this afternoon that the Ambassadors of the Powers at Constantinople presented a joint ultimatum to the Porte.

The other powers did not agree to Foreign Secretary Lansdowne's proposals that the powers assume judicial as well as financial control of Macedonia and that the control be extended to Vallaia of Adriaopole, which was not included in the original reform scheme.

The ultimatum as presented in addition to the general control of Macedonia demands a two years' extension of the term of office of the Austrian and Russian civil agents of the offices of the European gendarmerie.

The Porte has been given 24 hours in which to reply. A refusal is expected and consequently all the powers except Germany, which will not participate, are preparing to dispatch two war vessels each to rendezvous at Pleraus in the course of the coming week. An Austrian Admiral will command the international fleet.

MEN OF ACCOUNTS HAVE ANNUAL BANQUET

Local Organization Celebrates Its Second Year With a Festive Gathering.

The men who keep the books and make out the accounts met at annual banquet last night in one of the spacious halls of the new Polytechnic Business College at the corner of Twelfth and Harrison streets. It was the second annual banquet of the Oakland Association of Accountants and Bookkeepers and over a hundred sat down at the festive board to eat, listen and laugh.

There were witty speeches by some of the men present and Charles H. Smith, cashier of the Security Bank and Trust Company was at his best as toastmaster, notwithstanding the fact that a late speaker on the program said his speech had been spoiled by reason of the fact that Smith and he had evidently been using the same joke book and that all of his thunder had been stolen.

RELINQUISH QUARTETTE.

The Reliance Quartette gave a number of well received selections and added greatly to the pleasure of the evening.

The science of figures and accounts was the business of the men gathered together to advance the aims of their association. There were men there who could figure out the amount of error that came from the small Eastern, the battle of the vino tinto, and now being expended in the operation of this pencil. They were there to talk mutual aid and suggestions for a library with books bearing upon the subject of accounts is to bear fruit in the near future.

SPEECHES BEGIN.

The dinner began with the saying of grace by the Rev. E. E. Baker, and then with the coming of the cake and toastmaster Smith was introduced and who after some preliminary remarks began by introducing H. C. Capwell, president of the Board of Trade, who had for his subject "Apples." From his knowledge of agriculture Capwell told his hearers that there were 2500 varieties and that men remembered them to a great degree. "Apples," he said, "started originally from the crab apple, and probably the savage in cutting switches from the tree to whip his progeny might have unconsciously been the first pruner. At any rate the cultivation of the tree by pruning and the giving the fruit more of the sap was the first step towards the production of this fine fruit. From the savage man's first attempt the degree of cultivation reached by man today is the distance he is removed from his early forefather."

The speaker's remarks were interspersed with bright sayings and quips at the expense of the assembly. The others assembled about the tables.

L. G. JORDAN.

The next speaker introduced was President L. G. Jordan, president of the association. In reply to some allusions to himself he began by saying, "It is not fair to make a man's weaknesses for he is not prepared for present emergencies."

"I want to congratulate you on the present memorable occasion. We celebrate the second year of the association now numbers upwards of one hundred. The regular meetings have been well attended during the six months that have elapsed since our last banquet. The time has not been frittered away and we have gained the regard of our employers by the advanced methods in the work we do for them."

"Future holds out ideals. When the young man chooses his life's partner he selects the girl in the world and she believes he is a veritable king. The pleasure of a half century for marital happiness is not spoiled by the ideal men of our profession who aspire to become an analysis—a man able to comprehend the practical affairs. We hope for the time to come when accountancy shall take its place among the professions. When it shall become a heresy for an employer to attempt to take away the paraphernalia of his office to make an entry."

A. G. PLATT.

After a selection by the quartette A. G. Platt, of the State Organization of Certified Public Accountants was introduced and spoke on the subject of "Text books" and said:

"The first time I met with your association I was impressed with the enthusiasm of the members and officers who are energetic in their life work. I then became interested in your getting a library of books now coming from the press bearing upon your work. Books that you can take home with you."

"It is only of late that any American books could be had on this subject. The dearth of this sort of books was noticeable. But now American standard works are far in advance of European works."

"As I look back on twenty-five years of experience I wonder how we survived. We had no library. A lawyer has each account or adjustment we took was different with nothing to guide us. Works, however, are now supplying us with considerable of the information that was heretofore lacking."

"A review of Dixie's Auditing by Mr. Montgomery is a very fine and elaborate work. Professor Cleveland has taken up this end of the work convinced that the brightest minds of the land are contracting their attention to the subject of finance and his latest work is on banks and banking."

"After the facetious remarks of the toastmaster I imagine my remarks will appear very prosy but I am very much interested in your getting a library. The Mechanics Institute Library in San Francisco has more of a call on it than can be supplied.

REV. E. E. BAKER.

Rev. E. E. Baker was in his usual good form and was booked to talk on "Business Ethics." He spoke as follows:

"I have been courting an invitation ever since my last experience with you."

"However, when I come to talk of business ethics, I know very little about it, nevertheless that is nothing new for a preacher. Some of our congregation think we ought to know all about heaven, but as long as we have been married we don't know all about that subject, or for that matter of the other place."

"But talking about business it will be seen that it will not be out of place for me to talk about some thing you know I know nothing about, and this reminds me of a goal. I don't know whether this association has one or not, but one that I belong to has one. That one night I am told was allowed to browse about behind the scenes where the property rooster was marching and he ate away all the tail feathers. The next morning when they milked the goat they got a quart of cocktails."

"But I don't know what this has got to do with business. But getting to the subject some of us ministers while praying over a louder call which means with us an increased salary, the good wife arranges with the house-mover to take away the furniture."

"You have all double the hand of a discussion about a certain kind of money, and a certain man who I might describe more accurately as one, the top of whose head resembles greatly that of a turkey. While I am here I said that the money of John Rockefeller is tainted mine, 'taint' enough."

But while we have a few men in San Francisco and at Folsom whose money is tainted I believe the members of this association are the men who can walk the streets and whose books are straight, whose accounts are always open for inspection."

H. C. INGRAM.

The next speaker was H. C. Ingram, vice president of the Polytechnic Business College, who spoke of "Our Opportunities." He said:

"I feel that the program committee has done me an injustice, first, in placing me on the program at this point and expecting me to follow such brilliant after-dinner speakers as Dr. Baker and Mr. Platt, who have just preceded me, and in the second place it was not notified by the committee until the last day of last week that I was on the program. So I have had no time for preparation. I do not know how much time they gave Dr. Baker to prepare his speech, but judging from my own experience in speech making, and from the wit, wisdom and eloquence with which he has regaled us tonight, I should think he has been at work on it ever since our last banquet, and he is months ago in Oakland. A civic pride that shall bring men to the polls on election day and keep the rascals out and continue in office such men as Mayor Frank K. Mott and the honorable gentlemen who constitute our present City Council. Let each of us play the part of a citizen in part in making this city that it is destined to become—the largest, the most beautiful and the most attractive on the Pacific Coast. Lastly, we should value the advantages and opportunities that come to us by virtue of our membership in the Oakland Association of Bookkeepers and Accountants. These are the opportunities of investigation and education along the lines of systematic and scientific accounting, a subject of vital interest to the business world. Without the improved methods of accounting the great industrial and business enterprise of our country never could have existed. With the methods of accounting in use in this country a department store such as has been established and so successful conducted by Worthy Toastmaster Mr. Capwell would have been an impossibility. Scientific accounting is the balance wheel that keeps the machinery of the business world in motion. Scientific accounting is the business man's north star, and the guide post that directs him upon the road to success. Poor accounting, upon the other hand, has proven the Scylla and Charybdis upon which many an otherwise successful business has been wrecked and gone down to ruin."

THE BIG THING.

"That California is already noted for big things was brought forcibly to my mind when I was East last year. While in Chicago a friend of mine was telling me about a neighbor of his who moved to California; he wrote back telling about how big the vegetables and fruit grew in California. That they grew so large it was inconvenient to handle them in the market. He said he went into a grocery store in a town upon the Sacramento River where the potatoes grow to a large size and asked the storekeeper for 100 pounds of potatoes. The storekeeper looked at him a little disgusted and said:

"I can't sell you 100 pounds of potatoes."

"Why not?"

"I'll be d—d if I would cut a potato into a million, I think we should congratulate ourselves not only upon the opportunities that come to us because of our American citizenship and by reason of our residence upon the Pacific Coast, but in the highly favored State of California, but we should value our opportunities and appreciate the advantages that are ours by virtue of our residence in Oakland. I am a believer in the future of this city. You may study the conditions that have made other cities great, either in this or other countries, and may study the conditions and factors that have combined to make Chicago, Philadelphia and New York the great cities that they are, and you will find that Oakland must become a great city. She is, on the shores of San Francisco Bay at the terminus of four overland railroads that cross the continent from East to West, meeting ships that come and go to every port on the globe. Oakland must become a great manufacturing and commercial city."

"Situated as she is at the very mouth of the two great waterways of the State and in the heart of the great valleys tributary to them Oakland must become the great distributing center of the entire State and Coast. These conditions make her the great commercial metropolis of the West. As a residential city she will forever attract the wealth and culture of the East, for no city in America has so many natural advantages when you contemplate the making of a beautiful and attractive city, as has Oakland. Let us then, while we enjoy the advantages of residence in Oakland, do our part to make Oakland the city she is destined to become. Let us cultivate a civic pride such as Oakland has never known. A civic pride that will soon bring about a bond issue for the erection of a new city hall, the architectural feature of which shall be of educational value to all the people and the utility of which shall be commensurate with the city's needs now and in the years to come. A civic pride that will soon bring about another bond issue for a magnificent system of city parks, and for the beautifying of Lake Merritt, making it one of the most attractive features to be found in any city in the world. ### WANTS CHARGE OF CHILDREN

MILLIONAIRE SEEKS TO MODIFY THEIR MOTHER'S INJUNCTION.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 15.—Now for the decisive battle of the war that has been progressing for weeks in the household of Millionaire William H. Talbot. A motion to restore to Judge Muransky's calendar the petition of Talbot for the modification of the restraining order heretofore issued against him at the instance of his wife, Annie D. Talbot, has been granted. It will be argued immediately upon the conclusion of the hearing of the application of Mrs. Talbot for a monthly allowance of $2500 for her maintenance pending the final decision of her application for permanent separate maintenance at the hands of the capitalist, who is still her husband.

The petition of Millionaire Talbot to modify this restraining order is fraught with significance and will be resisted with all the power that Mrs. Talbot can summon. It means that now that the legal contest is well under way Talbot is ready to move to secure, if possible, the absolute control of his children. Since Mrs. Talbot instituted her action for maintenance the youngsters have been in his sole possession, but once, and then, to secure their custody for a day's outing, the court called upon him to deposit a bond of $20,000 to insure their safe return to their mother.

The knowledge that Talbot demands the modification of the restraining order, which enjoins him from disposing of his property or removing his children from beyond the jurisdiction of the court, goes far toward affirming the statement of Attorney Samuel M. Shortz, who represents Mrs. Talbot, that it is his wish to take his children to an Eastern college for education and establish them where social training is the larger part of the curriculum.

But it is Mrs. Talbot's wish that the little ones be trained with full regard for her feelings that when the grow to the estates of manhood and womanhood their hearts will be warm with the memory that at their mother's side they learned the lessons of life. So when the motion to modify the restraining order comes up Mrs. Talbot will ask why her children should be taken from her.

The petition of Mrs. Talbot for maintenance, pendente lite was on the calendar for hearing yesterday, but on that case, involving about $1000, which has been on trial for weeks, prevented the hearing. Judge Muransky announced, however, that he would take the Talbot case up at the conclusion of the lien case and hear all the evidence that either husband or wife had to produce, providing, however, he said in conclusion, "that we are not called to our fathers before the destiny of this $1000, which a lien holder seeks, is finally determined."

FOOTBALL GAMES ARE PROHIBITED

SAN JOSE, November 15.—The faculty of the University of the Pacific, the leading Methodist school in the West, at a meeting yesterday canceled all football engagements for the present season. This action was taken as a mark of respect to Clarence A. von Bokkelen of the Santa Clara High School team, who received injuries that resulted in his death in the game with the San Jose High School. A resolution was adopted agreeing with President Roosevelt and Eastern university officials, that heavy mass plays are a menace to the life of the players. The matter of abolishing football at the school was referred to the trustees at their next meeting.

The Way to Help the Jews

The San Francisco Chronicle is mistaken in assuming that the situation of the Jews in Russia is analogous to that of foreigners residing in China or Venezuela. There is a wide difference, and in that difference is concentrated the horror and helplessness of the Russian Jews. An American or other foreigner in China or Venezuela can appeal to his government for protection and redress in case of outrage.

The Jews in Russia have no one to appeal to. They are subjects of the Czar, and the Czar cannot protect them at this time. His government has criminally persecuted the Jews in the past and encouraged the bigoted prejudice of the populace against them. Now that the imperial system is in ruins and the Czar's power a shriveled and shrunken shadow of greatness, the government is powerless to restrain the fury of the mobs it has educated to hate and persecute the unhappy Hebrews.

Suppose the negroes in the United States were to appeal to the civilized nations of Europe to protect them against lynching and burning by American mobs. The answer would be, appeal to your own government and the laws which guarantee you protection. The position of the Jew in Russia is precisely the same as the position of the negro in the United States. If he is not protected by his government at home he has no claim on anybody for protection.

But while the negroes in the United States are to appeal to a protecting arm over the outraged and persecuted children of Israel in the Russian empire, Christians in all lands can afford financial assistance to the refugees from Moscovite cruelty and intolerance and succor for the famished and oppressed and those unable to flee from the horrors which accumulate around them. Let their sympathy take the practical form of liberal donations in cash, and not expend itself in vain appeals for government aid they know in advance will not be forthcoming.

Senator Clay of Georgia is quoted as saying that Mr. Roosevelt can have another nomination for the Presidency if he wants it or will take it, and that there would be practically no opposition to him should he run again. This does not at all imply that the South is turning to the Republican party. On the contrary, it is a testimonial to the personal popularity of the President. If one takes pains to scan Southern comments on Mr. Roosevelt closely, he will see that the Southerners have come to regard the President as pretty much a Democrat. They speak of him as standing for Democratic policies and voicing Democratic aspirations. This point of view does not indicate a leaning toward Republicanism—the reverse, rather. The financial issue in 1896 came nearer splitting the South than anything else. The recent elections show that the old slave States are still solid, for in Maryland the Democrats elected their State ticket and the Legislature although the constitutional amendment disfranchising negroes was voted down. Secretary Shaw's canvas of Virginia left the State as Bourbon as before.

On Selling Forged News

The Oakland youth who has been victimizing Eastern papers with stories of mythical crimes and tragedies in this locality needs to be taught a salutary lesson. He is overwhelmed with self pity at the prospect of punishment, but he probably prided himself on his cleverness up to the time of his exposure. In selling false news he was guilty of swindling, because he was palming off bogus goods on the representation that they were genuine. By his free use of common names he gave pain to many and excited apprehension in the minds of many others. He also gave a great deal of trouble to publishers and officers of the law. All this was done that he might pick up a few dishonest dollars. Now he pleads youth and inexperience as an excuse for his offense. He certainly should have known that it was as wrong to write a lie as it is to utter one. He cannot be so ignorant as not to know that getting money under false pretenses is as bad as stealing it outright. Here is a sample of the queries he telegraphed to Eastern papers in his efforts to sell fakes: "Man smokes cigar loaded with dynamite. Face blown off by explosion. Death instantaneous. How much?" No such incident ever occurred, but that did not deter this enterprising chap from peddling the story wherever he could as a bona fide account of an actual occurrence. The moral twist in this young man's mind needs to be taken out by the application of measures that will make a lasting impression on his memory.

The Berlin Foreign Office feels impelled to give out the statement that Germany will afford Russia no assistance in suppressing a rebellion in Poland should an uprising occur. This statement may be taken for what it is worth, but those experienced in the ways of diplomacy will not attach great weight to it. But why has Germany been constrained to volunteer a disclaimer of this kind at this particular time? If von Buelow simply desired to inform the Russian government that it must not look to Germany for help in a Polish crisis, it could have done so privately, instead of publishing it to the world in a manner calculated to add to the embarrassments which are thronging about Count Witte. Probably the impelling motive was a desire to keep the Prussian Poles from joining their Russian brethren in a demand for autonomy.

It is to be observed that it is Abe Ruef's enemies that have announced him as a candidate for Senatorial honors. A man is badly enough off when he is in the hands of his friends as a candidate, but when he's in the hands of his enemies his plight is infinitely worse. But Ruef may not trust his political ambitions to the tender mercies of his enemies.

White Republicanism in Virginia

The result of the experiment of running a white man's ticket on a white man's platform in Virginia has not answered expectations. Although there was widespread dissatisfaction among Democratic voters with the ticket presented for their approval, and in consequence an unusually large stay-at-home vote, the Bourbon majority is above 20,000. Reason why, the colored voters stayed at home. Being plainly given to understand by the Republican leaders that they must go away back and sit down, they did so, and sat still all during the campaign, leaving to the white Republicans the task of electing their own ticket. Although the Democratic vote was phenomenally light, the Republican ticket did not come anywhere near winning. In the city of Norfolk only six negroes voted. They were conspicuously absent from the polls in Richmond, Petersburg, Newport News, Alexandria, Lynchburg and Danville. Only a corporal's guard voted in the entire State, and some of these cast Democratic ballots. In Maryland, on the other hand, where the Republicans made a fight against disfranchising the negroes, the colored voters registered and voted to a man. There may be some who labor under the delusion that you can kick a man and still claim his vote, but all such are likely to fail in politics as signally as did the Virginia Republicans in the recent campaign.

For the California Delegation to Consider

Governments should never be asked, nor expected, to do anything for the people that they can do for themselves.

Public money should never be used for the creation of values in the hands of individuals unless the entire public have some measure of participation in the benefits conferred.

Public money is derived from the people, and when it is expended for the benefit of a class, or of a few, it becomes public larceny.

To the conception of many people money in the national treasury is merely foreign coin, and many, imagine that when the Government sustains an expenditure in any locality such expenditure is net gain to the locality.

Every private enterprise sustained from the public treasury becomes a precedent for thousands of its kind, and what a particular community gains by such expenditure is lost to them in the share they contribute to analogous enterprises elsewhere.

The plea that the expenditure of public money is expedient if it creates wealth can be supported only by sophistry. If the Government can, without impoverishing anyone, make one class of people or one class of property holders rich by public expenditure, then there is no excuse for poverty, because the policy would be capable of unlimited repetition.

These statements are axiomatic, but they are addressed to men of understanding.

The Government of the United States presented to the State of California about 1,500,000 acres of swamp, overflowed and tide lands. The declared object of this gift was the reclamation of this land and the addition of the areas reclaimed to the productive area of the nation.

The California delegation in Congress are now fully apprised of the argument which they must meet and overcome on the floor of Congress. The representatives of the people of the United States may well say:

"We gave to your State a million and a half acres of land, among the richest in the world, with the understanding that by reason of that gift you would reclaim it and make it productive, thus adding to the wealth of your State, and to its capacity to sustain population. This was a valuable inheritance; in fact, a vast donation of property to your commonwealth. You have alienated the title of the State without reclaiming the land. It is no longer public land, either State or National. The Legislative device, and the judicial confirmation of that device, are capable of but one of two explanations: They are the result of dishonesty, or they are the result of imbecility. And, now that these lands have lost their public character; now that you have abused the confidence and proven recreant to the trust imposed in you; when this property belonging to the whole people has been presented to your State and you have conveyed your title to private citizens, you are here asking the Government not only to condone your offense in having betrayed the trust imposed in you, but to expend millions of dollars for the accomplishment of the result with which you stood charged in all good conscience."

It is worthy the attention of the California delegation in Congress that the specious arguments employed in defense of this absurdity, are shifty and dishonest. It is declared that the reclamation of this land will create at once a value equal to $100,000,000, and at a cost of $24,000,000. This vast margin of profit should be attractive to private capital. The Government should not be a competitor with the profitable investment of the money of the people. It should not tax the people to obtain moneys which it will expend where private capital is seeking investment and relegate that private capital to disuse. Moreover, the Government is entitled to every guarantee that private capital would demand as to the certainty of profit arising out of the expenditure of money. If, therefore, this claim is true, private capital may be appealed to for the accomplishment of this result. The fact that private capital is not appealed to for the entire statement made in its support.

Popular expectation as to what a delegation in Congress ought to accomplish for the people in the way of securing the expenditure of public money, has within the past few years reached the extreme limit. It is one of the most serious embarrassments attending a Congressional term as to how the clamors of a constituency for the expenditure of money from the National treasury can be reduced to a rational basis. Every member of the present Congressional delegation understands fully the ridiculous position in which the State places itself by this request to reclaim at National expense the swamp-lands which were donated to the State with the understanding that the State itself would reclaim them.

Every member of Congress feels the embarrassment which this project places him under. Each knows for himself that the scheme is absurdly impracticable, and that the national Congress will not listen to it for a moment.

And finally, the attention of the Congressional delegation of California is called to the fact that the swamp-lands of this State are owned in monopolistic quantities, and the delegation is duly notified that whoever votes for the appropriation of public money to reclaim these lands now in private ownership, and to be held in private ownership after reclamation without providing the most drastic measures for their forcible segregation into small holdings at valuations approximating their unclaimed value, takes his political life by his own hand.

WHY SO TIGHT.

THE OAKLAND TRIBUNE, in its realty and building department of last Saturday comments on the reluctance of Oakland real estate dealers to give information concerning sales made, and contrasts it with the publicity given transactions of this kind in such thriving and progressive cities as Seattle and Los Angeles. This paper long ago met with the same discouraging condition of things respecting the collection of building news among local architects from whom, with but few exceptions, it is next to impossible to worm an item of news without the use of a cork-screw or a burglar's jimmy.

The reason commonly given for this reluctance to import information is the fear that some rival might get the customer away by some hocus-pocus means or other, and interfere with the consummation of the deal, even after negotiations are practically completed. That no such fears are entertained by architects and real estate dealers in the cities named is evident from the publicity weekly given transactions in their newspapers. Why conditions in Oakland should be different is probably off a piece with the reason for the city's backwardness in expansion into second place among the cities of the Pacific Coast—her business men haven't outgrown the village method of doing business and the narrow village habit of thought. A good many of them haven't yet learned that they are alive.—Oakland Industrial News.

AN APPEAL TO REASON.

O goddess of the fashion plate!
We women bend the knee,
Your majesty to supplicate
And urge an earnest plea.
Our hearts, now panged in deepest grief,
Shall rise like any rocket,
If you will come to our relief.
And grant us but—a pocket!

Your favor to propitiate
We strive more than the mer;—
Why will you thus discriminate
In favor of them then.
In every garment for their wear
With cubby-holes you stock it;
For me we lift our humble prayer,
A pocket—O a pocket!

Our handkerchief we cannot find,
And all too soon we lose it,
'Tis borne on any pliffing wind,
Just when we most would use it.
Our cards are gone, our purses, too,
Our grief—pray do not mock it!—
But grant the gift—fair goddess do,
A pocket—O a pocket!

Our throats are bare, our waists are bound,
If such is your command,
Our dainty skirts lie on the ground,
Or grabbed with graceless hand,
We do not ask for reason's powers,
Nor sense—alas! you shock it—
If only this small boon be ours—
A pocket—O a pocket!

—Mary Gow Walworth, in the Chicago Record-Herald.

Dame Fashion reigns in royal way and with an iron rod.
The destiny of things mundane 's shaped by beck or nod.
The fads of yesterday become the discards of today.
And only Lovers dare to keep to the good old-fashioned way.

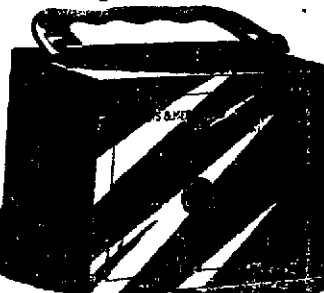

Our manners, like our garb, must change; our ceremonies, too
We languish or athletic grow, just as we're bid to do.
Concerning e'en the Arts we ask, Is this or that au fait?
But somehow Lovers still embrace in the good old-fashioned way.

For e'equetry and courtship no dictum has been set;

MRS. IRVING LEWIS IS HOSTESS AT A PLEASANT AFFAIR AT HER HOME.

Among the pleasant events in prospect are a series of card parties to be given this month by various society hostesses. Mrs. Egbert Stone will entertain about forty young people on Saturday afternoon for Miss Gladys Meek, who is to make her formal debut this winter. The Meeks have just come here for the winter, and the charming little debutante will doubtless be very popular this winter.

Five hundred is the game announced for the afternoon, and only members of the younger set are included in the guest list.

Mrs. Frederick B. Dallam has sent out cards for a 500 party to be given Friday afternoon, November 24, at her attractive home.

TURN HIM DOWN, GIRLS.

Pretty maid, if you discover
That your ardent, pleading lover
Spends his time in loafing idly round the town:
If his hair is carried bangy
On his forehead, and he's slangy,
Don't you hesitate a moment—

turn
him
down.

If you note his eyebrows fusing
O'er the nose that he is using,
And the very least annoyance makes him frown:
He has got a disposition
That may land you in perdition,
And you'd better nerve yourself and turn

him
down.

If he pays no marked attention,
Doesn't even give it mention,
When you meet him in a new and charming gown,
Show him to the door politely;
Tell him that his Sunday nightly
Visits must be discontinued—

turn
him
down.

If he talks and
Calls the silver dollars "cases,"
Tells you how he "done up" Smith and Jones and Brown,
If he meets you with a swagger,
And you catch a sniff of lager,
Get your nerve in proper trim and turn

him
down.

Study well your pleading lover,
Or you may too late discover
That he'll place more thorns than roses in your crown.
And if anything about him
Gives you slightest cause to doubt him,
Do it in a gentle way, but turn

him
down.

WHY PEOPLE OF WEALTH CANNOT AFFORD TO HAVE MANY CHILDREN.

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, November 15.—"The better class of people in New York cannot afford large families. They have too much to pay in taxes to support the large families of the thoughtless poor."

This was the bomb which Mrs. S. M. Cory exploded yesterday in the Society for Political Study in a resume of the evils patient New Yorkers stand, which created the greatest sensation in the society's history.

"New York property owners," said Mrs. Cory, "pay increasingly large taxes every year, due mainly to the enormous immigration."

"Who, may I ask, would want to pay taxes to educate children that should never have been brought into the world? Why should the thrifty pay for the shiftless?"

"I am not so unchristian as to say that the child once here should not be cared for. But just so long as taxpayers pay for expensive playgrounds, etc., the children of the poor will increase like rabbits in a burrow. No wonder our houses of refuge and reformatories are filled."

INCREASE IN NUMBER OF WIDOWS AND DESERTED WIVES

(By Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, November 15.—A remarkable increase in the number of widows and deserted wives applying for assistance to the Chicago Relief and Aid Society during the last year over preceding years is noted in the annual report of the society. The report states:

"More than one-fourth of the cases that come to the society are widows with little children; more than one-eighth deserted women with little children. There is illness in the family in nearly every case."

In the direct relief of the poor the society spent $26,400. A new feature of the work was the fresh air station for sick babies, conducted in conjunction with the Visiting Nurses' Association.

Next summer the society hopes to establish many more such stations in the small parks or in open spaces in the congested parts of the city.

WOMAN IS HOUNDED BY 'JACK THE PEEPER'

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—A new style "Jack the Peeper," who for some strange reason has picked out Mrs. John Hegeman, of No. 508 Ray street, Jamaica, as his victim, is mystifying the police. During the last month he has called at Mrs. Hegeman's home almost nightly and has driven the woman into nervous prostration.

Mrs. Hegeman lives in fine style in one of the most pretentious residences in Jamaica. Her husband is engaged in the feed and flour business in Brooklyn and is wealthy.

The first visit of the peeper was made just as Mrs. Hegeman was recovering from a slight illness. She was in her bedroom when a stone rattled against the window pane. The woman screamed and called her husband. Throwing open a window Mr. Hegeman saw a man running along the lawn to the street. The next night the man appeared again at midnight and knocked six times on the kitchen door. Mrs. Hegeman saw the peeper run to the corner, where he was joined by another man who had evidently been keeping guard.

The peeper, sometimes alone, and on other occasions accompanied by his lookout, repeated his visits each night for a week, varying the time from 9 o'clock to midnight. Sometimes his face would be seen grinning at the dining-room windows, again he would be heard walking on the veranda. Every time a window or door was opened he would dart away.

Mrs. Hegeman is now under the care of a doctor and her condition is declared to be serious. This, however, has had no effect on the peeper. He called at the Hegeman home Sunday night when the private detective engaged to watch for him was away for a moment, and hammered the door with his fists. Those who have caught a glimpse of him say he resembles a young man who lives in the neighborhood.

WORKS WITH BONES OF HER ARM AND HEEL REMOVED

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—Are certain bones of the body to be added to the list of superfluous or semi-superfluous organs is a question that layman without knowledge of medicine might well ask after considering the remarkable case of Miss Maude G. Merker, a patient at the People's Hospital.

Although a miscellaneous assortment of bones has been removed from various parts of her body, Miss Merker goes about her work as secretary for ten hours every day without appreciable inconvenience. Despite the fact that the entire ulnar bone is missing from the left arm, that a portion of the right scapula has been removed and that several bones have been taken from the right heel, Miss Merker moves about as spryly as any one possessed of a full assortment of osseous tissues. She states that she can write steadily all day with no more fatigue than before the various operations had been performed.

HER DISEASE IS NECROSIS.

The disease from which Miss Merker is suffering, necrosis of the osseous tissues, set in some fifteen months ago. It first manifested itself in the heel, necessitating the removal of portions of the heel bone which had rotted, or become necrotic, as the physicians say. Five months after the operation, just to show how far the recovery had progressed, the young woman essayed to dance, and was as easy of movement as graceful as her more fortunate sisters, and suffered no pain.

The next development of the disease was in the shoulder blade. Examination revealed the fact that another operation would be necessary and a portion would be necessary, and a portion of the shoulder blade large enough to push two fingers through was removed. It was naturally supposed this would lower the shoulder and seriously interfere with the use of the right arm. Instead of this the young woman has complete use of the right arm and is able to swing it round and round with as much ease as if the shoulder blade were whole.

BONE OF LEFT ARM REMOVED.

The third and by far the most serious and wonderful phase of the case was when the ulnar bone of the left arm began to decay and its removal was found necessary. Rendered confident by the results of the two former experiments, the patient readily agreed to a further operation. She refused to take anesthetics and walked up to the operating table herself. On examination it was found necessary to remove the entire ulnar bone from the left forearm, leaving only the joints at either end. The layman would naturally suppose this would forever destroy the uses of the left arm and hand. On the contrary, the patient can move the entire arm at will and has complete control of the muscles of the left hand, opening and shutting the fingers at will and even picking up and holding different objects with them. The only inconvenience noted is that the arm becomes painful in humid or wet weather.

Skevers should always be run through fat, never through lean; they let juices out. Meat should never be washed, only wiped well. Slices of meat for hash must be well rolled in seasoned flour before being wrapped in the gravy. Hash should never be put up, only just dressed, as otherwise bits of leather-like stuff will be made of the meat.

Instead of throwing bits of toilet soap away place them in a jar as they accumulate. Make bags of fine cheesecloth, 4 by 5 inches in size and fill them with a few bits of soap, oatmeal or bran, and a teaspoonful or so of powdered corn root. Fasten the bags at the top and use them for wash cloths.

To renovate black silk, sponge with black coffee, then iron.

Social Tragedy

Women Who Brave Death for Social Honors.

In the midst of one of the most brilliant social functions of the season, a noted society woman started suddenly from her chair with a scream of agony and fell insensible to the floor.

A few hours later the distinguished physician told her anxious husband that she was suffering from an acute case of nervous prostration brought on by female trouble, and hinted at an operation. Fortunately a friend advised her to try

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

The result was that she escaped the surgeon's knife and to-day is a well woman.

The derangement of the delicate female organism sets every nerve in the body quivering with pain. Headaches, backaches, torturing bearing down pains and dragging sensations make women nervous and hysterical.

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I was troubled for eight years with irregularities which broke down my system and brought on extreme nervousness and hysteria. I could neither enjoy my meals nor sleep nights, became easily irritated and nervous and very dependent on Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which proved to be the only medicine which helped me. After taking the third bottle, my general health began to improve. At the end of the fifth month I was well and could attend to my household and social duties and enjoy life.

Mrs. CHESTER CURRY, 42 Saratoga Street, East Boston, Mass.

Mrs. Curry, whose portrait appears on the right, is the leader of the Ladies' Symphony Orchestra. The following letter is from Miss Goode, President of the Bryn Mawr Lawn Tennis Club of Chicago:

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I tried many different remedies to try to build up my system, which had become run down from loss of proper rest and unseasonable hours, but nothing seemed to help me. Mother is a great advocate of Lydia Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for female troubles, having used it herself some years ago with great success. So I began to take it, and in less than a month I was able to be out of bed and out of doors, and in three months I was entirely well. Really I have never felt so strong and well as I have since.

COMING TO THE MACDONOUGH

"UNDER SOUTHERN SKIES" AND "PRINCE OF PILSEN" COMING HERE.

It has been said by those who have made a careful study of dramatic literature that no play can make a popular success that has not a good love story as its very foundation. Dramatists have found this so true that whatever themes may appeal to their artistic sense as novel or instructive material for the basis of a play, it is put aside as not likely to meet the taste of the majority of the theatergoers and some variation of the old but never worn-out theme of love is again and again written for the public which is always demanding it. It is no doubt, the strength and interest of the love story in "The Southern Skies" and "The Prince of Pilsen" upon the popular stage. "The Southern Skies" is now in its fifth year of uninterrupted success, playing to crowded houses wherever it has appeared. The strong story showing the broken life and heart of a man and a woman, and the almost wrecked happiness of a young girl has never failed to hold an audience fascinated and deeply interested from the opening of the play to the fall of the final curtain. It will play at the Macdonough next Saturday and Sunday.

PRINCE OF PILSEN.
"The Prince of Pilsen," the tuneful and humorous musical comedy which Henry W. Savage sends to the stage through Theatrical Trust, and which has firmly established its popularity and consequent success during the four years of its existence, and is readily accepted today as the standard musical comedy of the current stage as it was in the first flush of its career. Its elements in New York City aggregate more than a year's duration. Five months in Boston, an equal period in Chicago, and a half-year's run in London are recorded in its history. Other musical comedies have come upon the stage in pretension during the four years of life of "The Prince of Pilsen," have sparked briefly and been relegated to the limbo of discarded stage productions, while that delightful work continues on its way, growing in popularity and increasing in charm with each succeeding season. The fascinating swing and rhythm which Gustav Luders contributed to the music of the piece have made its many songs hits popular in almost every American home, and it was perhaps the poetic worth and idealistic nature of Frank Pixley's lyrics and the picturesque and romantic settings of his story that inspired the composer to his greatest work. The comedy is not by Mr. Savage to give interpretation to this musical comedy is a typical Savage one—the best that can be supplied without reference to expense or labor. Dandy, the untutored comedian, will come the part of Hans Wagner, in which he has appeared more than 500 times. Louis Willis, pleasant and pretty, will be the vivacious widow. Arthur Donaldson will be seen in his original role, the real Prince of Pilsen. Many Welsh, Danish, Russian, Chinese comedienne, will charm as Nellie Wagner, the brewer's daughter. Marguerite Ferguson, a dancing sylph, is Sidonie, the French maid. Mrs. Anderson has played the young nation's sweetheart from the first night of the production. In Rome, she enacts the role of Francine, Pauline Huntley making a perfect Jimmie, the bell boy. J. Hayden, who is Lord Strimington and Ruth Douglas is the English Tuscany girl. Stun after the stage leads the list of American girls in the "Song of the Cities," and the chorus discloses a degree of musical talent allied to personal charm rarely combined in a work of this class. Seats now on sale.

PRICE OF COAL HAS ADVANCED

CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—Coal dealers, who admit that prices are advancing, say it is due to the fact that there is a famine and that coal cannot be shipped into Chicago from the coal fields.

"The price of all soft coal has advanced from 25 to 50 cents a ton," says the manager of one coal company.
The supply of coal now standing in cars on the various railroads in Chicago, say the fuel dealers, would not last an hour in the face of the sudden orders for hurried deliveries that follow the first fall of snow.

HIGH RATES OF INTEREST ARE CHARGED

Monetary Conditions Control the Stock Market and Prices Are Declining.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Monetary conditions control the stock market consequence. Were it not for the just now and prices are declining in present high rates of interest we might be reveling in a possibly dangerous bull speculation. With call money quoted, however, between 8 and 15 per cent, and scarce at that, the inducements for operations on the long side are naturally suspended. Bank reserves are much depleted while loans are greatly extended; and, legitimate demands for funds being heavy with the prospect of increasing rather than diminishing, there is little money at present available for speculative purposes in the stock market. Little, if any aid can be expected from the Government, and the only remedy in sight is a contraction of loans in order to meet other urgent demands. Such contraction of course falls most severely upon purely speculative operations and liquidation of stocks naturally follows. The local money market is still threatened with gold exports, and large sums are due to Japan and on account of its loans, which will be transmitted at the first favorable opportunity. In fact, there is a strong presumption that remittances for this account are already being quietly made. The improvement in the Russian situation also strengthens the probability of a large Russian loan. Rumor stated that this had been postponed until February or March, but should the Government succeed in restoring order and putting proposed reforms into early effect, the loan will probably be placed before that date. With foreign bankers it is merely a question of an opportune moment for placing this loan; and, being already heavily committed to Russian obligations, it is to be expected that the Russian Government financially will not be delayed. For this reason the foreign bankers may begin to draw upon America for gold as soon as our local stringency abates. Paris is strong from a monetary standpoint and could readily provide its share of subscriptions. London, however, might want assistance, and the German banks will certainly be obliged to strengthen their gold supplies at our expense. So far as New York is concerned the postponement of the loan is an advantage, inasmuch as it gives ample time for preparations, as well as permitting the natural turn of funds from the interior to this center.

FIRM RATES FOR MONEY.

During the next few weeks firm rates must be anticipated for money, the market for which will be inevitably exposed to sharp manipulations owing to the actual scarcity of funds. Business continues active and a high level of prices for commodities as well as securities tends to aggravate stringency since larger sums are required to perform a given service. Interest on the part of the municipal service corporations or those which might possibly be brought within sight of municipal aid is not likely to be of much importance. So far as New York is concerned there is no immediate prospect of this contingency. The municipal ownership movement has undoubtedly been tremendously stimulated by the corporation abuses and shortcomings, but the results of the election in no wise confirm the idea that this city is ready for so radical and momentous a change. But as may have been the treatment which the citizens of New York have received at the hands of its transportation and lighting corporations, there is no assurance that it would be served any better under the present political domination of New York. What is possible in Glasgow, Leeds, London, Berlin and other European cities, where political conditions are much better, would not be possible in New York. Every abroad, the experiment has been conducted under the most favorable auspices, the results have been anything but uniformly satisfactory. Where managements have been of exceptionally high standard, and absolutely free of political considerations the results have been partially successful. But lower fares and higher wages, made without regard to net results, are not conducive to political enterprise; and some of the European experiments have been complete failures, inasmuch as development was slow, depreciation great and profit a diminishing quantity. A few instances, which had to be made of actual losses, which had to be made good by the poor taxpayer. Municipal ownership has yet to prove its superiority over private enterprise. The real significance of the election is that the public are dissatisfied with the various forms of abuse and graft which have crept into our political and business system. That their dissatisfaction should be thus expressed, not merely in New York but in Philadelphia and other political centers, is an occasion for rejoicing and the one really bright spot in the election.

BANK CLEARINGS.

Records of bank clearings for the ten months of the current year offer remarkable proof of the increased activity in business. The total of 100 of the leading cities of the United States for the ten months ending October amounted to $115,000,000,000, an increase of 33 per cent over the same time last year. Of this total $75,000,000,000 clearing was at New York, which showed an increase of nearly 45 per cent. Chicago comes next in importance with $8,250,000,000 clearings and an increase of nearly 13 per cent. Then follows Boston with $6,250,000,000 clearings and a gain of 17 per cent, after which comes Philadelphia with $5,500,000,000 clearings, or an increase of 22 per cent. Sections which show the largest gains are the Middle States, which underwent an expansion of 42 per cent in clearings. The Pacific States came next with an increase of 26 per cent, while New England and the Western States show gains of from 7 to 12 per cent. These figures plainly indicate that business activity has shown a much larger percentage in the East than in the West, and this in spite of its already large volume. Evidently the West has not yet had its full share of business improvement, but this is seen shortly destined to enjoy as a result of bountiful and profitable harvests. In fact it is already having its innings in this respect, and clearing house figures indicate a higher percentage of gain than is now current at the East. The percentage of gain in New York, for instance, during October was only 7 per cent, while Chicago gained 12 per cent, and the other cities of the Mississippi a still higher rate of gain.

STOCK FLUCTUATIONS.

The stock market stands exposed to sharp fluctuations. As already said, business conditions are promising, and the general situation is satisfactory. Confidence is strong and well based, and we are as sure as possible of another year of good business. The chief dangers are overconfidence and the creation of a number of questionable enterprises. Nothing stands in the way of active speculation just now but the scarcity of money and the prudent policy of our bankers, who recognize that present satisfactory conditions would quickly be destroyed if speculation were not held within reasonable bounds. Stocks are generally very high and the public is in the market to a very limited extent. Some shares are selling at four or five times their value, and such had better be left severely alone until there is the ample test of a squeeze in the money market, which may come when least expected. There is an effort to distribute the low-priced stocks and speculation is increasing in that direction.

This is encouraged by the fact that the present extraordinary profits enable the payment of dividends upon popular stock. The public has been so frequently warned against the purchase of such securities that their distribution is exceedingly difficult. Nevertheless unwary purchasers are found here and there in the expectation of temporary profit, and to this extent stocks of questionable value are passing from strong into weak hands. Conditions favor such manipulation, but nothing can be done except to repeat words of caution. During the next few weeks we are likely to see rapid changes in values. Important deals are in prospect, and these, with the manipulation of the money market, are likely to require the active attention of the trading element. Stocks should only be bought on pronounced declines and profits taken on good rallies. An unfavorable bank statement is expected owing to currency shipments, and sharp contraction in loans is probable, also a further liquidation in stocks, which suggests still lower prices for the latter. When the monetary situation adjusts itself a recovery in stocks can be expected, but not before.

BAD BLOOD WEAKENS THE SYSTEM AND INVITES DISEASE

Every part of the body is dependent on the blood for nourishment and strength, and when from any cause this vital stream of life becomes impoverished or run-down, it invites disease to enter. No one can be well when the blood is impure; they lack the energy that is natural with health, the complexion becomes pale and sallow, the vital energies are at a low ebb, and they suffer from a general broken-down condition of health. The system is weakened and unable to resist the diseases and disorders that are constantly assailing it. The Liver and Kidneys, failing to receive the proper stimulation and nourishment from the blood, grow inactive and dull, and the waste matters and bodily impurities that should pass off through these channels of nature are left in the system to produce Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Skin Diseases or some other blood disorder. When the blood is in this weakened and diseased condition it should be treated with a remedy that is not only thorough, but gentle in its action. S. S. S., a purely vegetable remedy, made of roots, herbs and barks, is just what is needed. It not only cleanses the blood of all impurities and poisons, and enriches and strengthens it, but gently builds up the entire system by its fine tonic effect. S. S. S. reinvigorates every member of the body, gives tone and vigor to the blood, and as it goes to the different parts, carries robust health and strength. S. S. S. acts more promptly and gives better results than any other medicine. It cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Skin Diseases and all other blood disorders, and cures them permanently. Our Medical Department will be glad to give advice without charge to all suffering with blood or skin diseases. Address

BERKELEY CAPTAIN IS YOUNG MEN TO HAVE STUDENTS TALK OVER OPENING KIN TO ROYALTY SWELL "SMOKER" INVITED THE STREET

United States Army Man Whose Relation to King George Has Just Become Known.

BERKELEY, Nov. 15.—Captain Edward O. C. Ord, U. S. A., retired, who for many years has resided at 2201 Channing way in this city, is a distant relative of King Edward and a descendant of King George IV. The relationship, however, is so distant that Captain Ord does not claim the connection and does not care to discuss the question. Captain Ord's relationship to England's ruler is traced through the late General Ord, a California pioneer and officer in the United States army, whom it is claimed was the offspring of the marriage of King George IV and Mrs. Marie Smythe Fitzherbert.

"Captain Ord is a nephew of the late James Ord, which is as far as the relationship goes," said Mrs. Ord, when seen this morning.

The relationship of the Ord family to the royal family of England is believed to have been established by the opening of long-sealed papers in London last Friday. These documents, which have remained unopened for many generations, are said to confirm the marriage of King George IV to Mrs. Marie Smythe Fitzherbert and the birth of a son to the pair.

James Ord, a California pioneer and officer in the United States army, it is of the Belt line called for a track entirely around the peninsula, connecting again with the starting point at the oil refinery. This extension will be only a step toward the final completion of the line, and it requires very little imagination to see that in a short time it will be a real belt line, connecting a host of industries on the water front with the various wharves and with all the transcontinental rail lines that come to California—and they are all coming.

Another feature of the advancing enterprise will be the extension of the East Shore and Suburban trolley line around the oil works and up and across the hills to the can factory and to Point San Pablo. This will be necessary to carry employees back and forth to their labor.

BRIEFLETS.

Conductor M. Sullivan, who has been on the Stockton local since Conductor Flanagan went on the Eureka local, has gone to Fresno to run on the branch.

The East Shore and Suburban Railway received another one of the 150 horsepower cars from the St. Louis car shops yesterday. It is a beauty and of a class similar to the one in use on the Southern Pacific-County line run. It is capable of running forty miles an hour with safety.

Popular Organization of Berkeley Plans "Gentlemen's" Night and Arranges a Great Card.

BERKELEY, Nov. 15.—The members of the Berkeley Athletic Club, and their friends, are to see some very clever boxing, with a bit of singing, piano playing, and monologue fun on the side, at the gentlemen's night and "smoker" to take place in the Berkeley Theater next Friday night.

The Berkeley Athletic Club has a membership that includes several hundred lovers of clean, amateur sport in the University town, and is officiated by some of the most prominent citizens of Berkeley, John C. Berry being president.

The smoker on Friday night is certain to be a big success, as some very interesting bouts have been arranged, and the other features of the entertainment will round out a bill of unusual value.

Jimmy Carroll of San Francisco, former lightweight champion of the world, is to officiate as referee. George Furlong will be master of ceremonies.

Four good goes have been arranged, the principal event to be a contest between Kid Span of the Berkeley Athletic Club, and Kid Dugan of Pittsburg. These men will box a limited round go at about 155 pounds, and the event should be a hummer, and a fitting finale to a fine evening's sport.

Leslie Badger, of the Berkeley Athletic Club, will box at 122 pounds with James Leary of San Francisco.

A four-round event will be a match between Young Sullivan of the Eureka Athletic Club in San Francisco, and Jack McCarthy of Berkeley, the men to weigh about 145 pounds.

Two Berkeley lads, Ed Meyer and Jim Marks, will box for four rounds at 162 pounds, and their friends will be present in force to see them mill.

Nat Laskey, of the Concordia Club, a Hebrew impersonator, will give a monologue during the evening. George Trusberry will render rag-time selections on the piano, and Ed Julietat is to render illustrated songs.

The tickets for the affair are on sale at Well's cigar stand, the general admission having been fixed at fifty cents. The house will be jammed, as indicated by the demand for seats thus early.

TO CHICO.

Appropriation has been made by the Town Trustees for their representation at the meeting at Chico on the 16th, of the League of California municipalities by any of the board who could go, and it is expected that at least Mayor Heyer and Trustee Petersen will attend and possibly one or two other trustees.

TOMATOES.

This has been a great year for tomatoes. Growers after all. The vines were not nearly so heavily set as in many former years at the beginning of the season but the season has been so long that more than the usual amount has been taken off per acre and the prices have been, as a rule, much better.

SOCIAL IMPROVEMENT.

Hayward Court of Foresters has added to its meetings the social improvement of getting the business out of the way early and following it with games of whist and other social games.

MINOR NOTES.

The concrete floor in the new library building is being laid.

Entries for the poultry show close Nov. 20.

Solomon Abrams has sued Mrs. C. Smith to compel fulfillment of contract to sell him certain of her property.

Corham-Alens baseball score of Sunday was 4 to 2 in favor of the former team.

"Ten Nights in a Bar Room" is billed for the Opera House on the 16th. The Rebekah initiation is on the 16th, not the 15th, as given in a local paper.

World Congress to be Held at Milan.

BERKELEY, Nov. 15.—The University authorities have received a circular announcing the holding of the first international convention of Students at Milan in 1906. The circular reads as follows:

"Fellow Students: With the object of strengthening the bonds that unite youths of education all over the world, of discussing and dealing with those questions that interest our class, the students of Milan, taking advantage of the great international exhibition that is to take place here in 1906, have decided to call a world's convention of students, to be held during the period of the exhibition.

"We hope, fellow students, that you will respond to our invitation and will come in great numbers to Milan. We, on our part, will do all in our power to enable you to spend the time you will pass in our city to the best advantage.

"Fellow students, by seeing and knowing one another we shall be able the more to respect and esteem one another and fulfill the noble purpose of forming all the educated youth into one immense band of brothers, with the same aspirations, the same ideal of peace, of progress, of civilization.

"Make up your minds, and all of you come to Milan in 1906!

"With regard to the subjects to be discussed by the Congress, we beg you to communicate to us those that may interest you most, of which we shall take note for discussion.

"In due course we shall send you the definite program, and will let you know the precise date of the Congress.

"The official festivities will last about a week, and will include sports (regatta, football, shooting at the target, wrestling), receptions, balls, processions, illuminations, banquets and excursions in the neighborhood of Milan.

"The committee arranging the Congress has also taken measures to obtain for those who attend the Congress notable reductions of fares—both from the railways and from the steamboat companies.

"We beg you to communicate to us the probable number of the students of your University who will come to the Congress, to serve as a guide in making general arrangements.

"It is, of course, understood that the invitation we give you, fellow students, extends also to your professors and their assistants."

RULERS OF THE WORLD

Most Eating Nations Are the Leaders in Every Branch of Human Achievements.

The ruling nations of the world are meat eaters and history record that they always have been.

Vegetarians and food cranks may explain this in any way they choose, but the facts remain that the Americans, English, French, Russians and Germans are meat-eating nations, and they are also the most energetic and most progressive.

The structure of the teeth plainly indicates that human beings should subsist upon a variety of food, meat, fruit and grains, and it is unhygienic to confine one's diet to any one of those classes to the exclusion of another.

Meat is the most concentrated and most easily digested of foods, but our manner of living is often so unnatural that the digestive organs refuse to properly digest meats, eggs and similar nutritious and wholesome food, but it is not because food is unwholesome, but the real reason is that the stomach lacks, from diseases or weakness, some necessary digestive element: hence arising indigestion and, later on, chronic dyspepsia.

Nervous people should eat plenty of meat, convalescents should make meat the principal food, hard-working people have to do so, and brain-workers and office men should eat, not so much meat, but at least once a day, and to insure its perfect digestion, one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets should be taken after each meal, because they supply the pepsines, diastases and fruit acids, lacking in every case of stomach trouble.

Nervous dyspepsia, catarrh of stomach, gastritis, sour stomach, gas and acidity are only different names for indigestion, the failure to digest wholesome food, and the use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets cures them all because, by affording perfect digestion, the stomach has a chance to rest and recover its natural tone and vigor.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the real household medicine: it is as safe and pleasant for the stomach as the baby as it is for the imperfect digestion of a grand sire.

They are not a cathartic, but a digestive, and the only habit Stuart's Tablets induce is the habit of good digestion and consequently good health.

TWO DROWNED.

HALIBURTON, Ont., November 15.—Chief of Police Bond of Port Hope and his sister-in-law, Miss Grier of Toronto were drowned near here yesterday. They were on a hunting trip.

Engineer Tells of Probable Cost to Run the Streets to Canal.

ALAMEDA, November 15.—The meeting of the residents and property owners interested in the opening of the streets to the canal, called by the City Trustees, was held last evening in the City Hall. The meeting was well attended and the members of the various associations present took a lively part in the discussion.

Chas. S. Neal acted as chairman of the evening, and James Gillingly, the City Clerk, as secretary.

City Engineer Poyser was the principal speaker of the evening. He outlined the probable cost of the opening of the streets and the process necessary to go through before and headway could be made.

He told of the cost of opening and widening Lincoln avenue and various other streets and spoke of the necessity of forming an assessment district from the whole town in a case of this kind.

It would be necessary to condemn the land for the desired streets and also to pay the price for the waterfront of each street, in addition to the price paid for the condemned land.

To run the desired streets through, Bay and Willow streets, it would be necessary to purchase at least three acres of the land now belonging to the Pacific Land Improvement Company and the price the company sets is about $2000 an acre. The probable cost of the waterfront would be $40 a front foot. The streets would be from fifty to sixty feet wide.

Mr. Poyser suggested that the best plan would be to see the Improvement Company and learn from them the lowest price the necessary land could be had for. He stated that a number of streets were open to the waterfront at the present time and that in his belief it would be the best thing at this time to start the work.

Benjamin Lamborn, secretary of the Central Improvement Club, wanted the property owners along the proposed streets to pay for the improving of the streets. He stated that the land was owned by one company and that this company would benefit the most by the proposed action, and that the company should be willing to stand the expense.

He thought that the owners would possibly deduct the cost of the improvement from the value of the land. A motion was adopted asking the Trustees to take such action as they saw fit at their next meeting.

The committee in charge of the Webster street roadway is to be enlarged by the addition of two more members from the Central Club and the North Side Association. This committee is to secure ALAMEDA, Nov. 15.—Last evening the fall festival of the Christ Church was opened in the parish hall. There was a good attendance and the numbers were all enjoyed and the evening was the literary and dramatic evening, each night during the course of the festival to be given to a different line of work. There was an address on Robert Louis Stevenson and a number of talks on his work.

A number of unique dramatic tableaux by Austin Dodson were produced. "Bits of the Eighteenth Century" were well received by those at the performance. The evening throughout was a great success and the members of the parish feel that their work will be successful.

ALAMEDA, Nov. 15.—The exhibit of plaster casts and reproduction illustrative of ancient art is now arranged in the storage building of the Department of Anthropology in Berkeley. The collection numbers five hundred pieces, large and small, which are arranged in approximate chronological sequence beginning with the earliest art through the archaic and middle Greek periods, down to Hellenistic Roman times. The exhibit has been fully catalogued and is labeled. Dr. Giddard of the Department of Anthropology is in charge and can be found in the building daily from nine to twelve and from two to five.

In the gallery of this building a special ethnological exhibit has been made for use in connection with instruction at the University. All the original pieces in the collections made by Dr. Emerson, which are at the affiliated colleges, are fully available for the use of students whether in classes or engaged individually in research, and they will be offered every facility in the prosecution of their work.

United States. They also asked that the duty of one cent on stereotype plates be increased to three cents. A higher duty on stones was advocated. It was strongly urged that tin plate should be kept on the free list. The other questions considered had to do with textile goods imported largely from Europe.

POWER OF PICTURES

Will Advertise the Charms of This Section.

SAN LEANDRO, Nov. 15.—The exposition of the power of postal card colored illustrations, or souvenir cards, made by Attorney J. N. Frank in the TRIBUNE recently, on his return from San Diego, was so inspiring and moving that stationers in all the small but growing towns along the O. S. L. and H. electric line, from Fruitvale to Hayward, have taken notice and are making arrangements to exploit in that way the interesting things in their environs, and not so exclusively as heretofore the charms of other sections of the State. H. A. Abernethy of this place is already collecting pictures of things of interest about San Leandro for that purpose, and others in the same business in other towns are inquiring at what cost such postal cards can be furnished.

SAN LORENZO, Nov. 15.—The latest enterprise of the Junior Christian Endeavorers is to form a cornet band, for which they have already secured fourteen members, with a teacher from Oakland.

The ladies of the Sewing Society are already preparing for their annual bazaar, to be held some time in December.

Nels Nelson is putting up a fine barn on his place across the railroad track.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Meek have closed their home here, and will spend the winter in Oakland.

HIGHER DUTY.

TORONTO, Ont., November 15.—Among the matters considered by the tariff commission yesterday was an application from the Typographical Union for doubling the duty on books, pamphlets funds for the improvement of Webster street.

PROFESSOR STEPHENS' ADDRESS.

ALAMEDA, November 15.—The third lecture of a course of twelve to be delivered by Professor Henry Morse Stephens, will be heard in the auditorium of the high school building this evening. Professor Stephens has drawn large crowds to the lectures and the course has been highly successful. A number of persons are taking the lectures and gaining a university credit by their work.

SENIOR DANCE.

ALAMEDA, November 15.—The low senior class of the local high school will give a dance on next Friday evening. The assembly hall of the school is being decorated in the class colors and the members are doing all in their power to make it a great success.

IMPROVEMENT CLUBS TO MEET.

ALAMEDA, November 15.—The West End and Central Improvement Clubs will meet this evening and discuss the advisability of a new charter for this city. At the meeting in the City Hall last week the clubs agreed to meet again to be given for the open discussion of the question. The members of the two clubs have endorsed the necessity for a new charter and will take an active interest in all affairs pertaining to it.

HAVE NO USE FOR CUBA

Isle of Pines People Want to be Part of United States.

NEW YORK, November 15.—A cable dispatch to the Herald from Havana says:

Residents of the Isle of Pines have issued a declaration of their independence from Cuba and organized a new government as a United States territory. A delegate to Congress will be sent to Washington in order to have questions affecting the future of the island discussed before the House of Representatives, ignoring Cuban authority.

Mass meetings were held under the name of territorial conventions and officials were appointed to fill all positions except those that must be named by the President under the Constitution of the United States. The first officers of the new territory are:

T. B. Anderson, Secretary of State; James M. Steere, Treasurer; Ed C. Ryan, Delegate to Congress; A. T. Friese, Chief Justice; David B. Wall, Sheriff.

The convention divided the island into five districts and ordered elections to be held Tuesday to select members of the Legislature, which is to convene next week, tax assessors and collectors. One ticket was named in each district, the only political question being to keep the island under the stars and stripes. The election is proceeding in an orderly manner under the forms of law, the men on the different tickets announcing that they will take office immediately without regard to those serving under the Cuban Government.

First official notice of the affair is contained in this letter:

NUEVA GERONA, Isle of Pines, November 14, 1905.—Mr. Theodore Roosevelt, President, Washington, Dear Sir: The people of this island, having purchased homes under the treaty of Paris, believing it was United States territory, and having waited over three years for recognition of their rights as American citizens, fearing a continuation of these conditions and feeling alarm at the condition of Cuba during the coming election, have taken preliminary steps for the establishment of a territorial government under the Constitution of the United States, believing this the proper step for us to take and the most effective way to receive justice and equity from our national law-making body, also relying upon you, our President, for a speedy deal.

"We trust our action will meet your approval. Yours respectfully,

"Chairman Territorial Convention."

At the meeting there was only one voice raised against the action taken. That was by a man who expressed fear of the results, asserting that all are liable to punishment under Cuban laws.

Only one-third of these now living on the island are American citizens. About half the natives live in the little town of Nueva Gerona. Their inclination is said to have the island belong to the United States.

This movement to sever relations with Cuba was favored by the Lincoln Club. Sixty members of the club met last Monday week, declared themselves a territorial convention and took steps to organize a government. A recess was taken until Saturday. More than two hundred persons gathered at Nueva Gerona, United States Secretary of State Elihu Root, General Leonard Wood and others concerned in having the Cuban flag raised were denounced.

It was decided to have a Legislature of eleven men, two from each district and one delegate-at-large. Dr. Ramonil receiving the nomination for that office.

"It was like an old style Southern mass meeting," all enthusiasm," said S. H. Porey to the Herald correspondent yesterday. Mr. Porey is vice-president of the Isle of Pines Company, which controls 150,000 acres out of a total of about 700,000 on the island.

"We are fighting for justice," he continued. "Wood sold us out, took stock and barrel, for two cooling stations after he had assured us the island would be retained by the United States. Cuba's only interest in the island is to afford

WILL INSPECT THE MILK

WILLIAM J. DOWNIE, who has just been appointed by the Board of Health to aid in the work of securing pure milk for Oakland.

At the meeting of the Board of Health, last night, William J. Downie received appointment as Assistant Milk Inspector of this city. The announcement will be received with pleasure by all who know the appointee, and they are numerous in this city and vicinity, because he is well known here and appreciated. Mr. Downie has resided in Oakland the greater part of his life. He is the son of the late Major William Downie, the pioneer of 1849, founder of the town of Downieville, in this State, and the author of the book known as "Hunting for Gold." The new inspector of milk has always been an ardent Republican, and for fifteen years was a member of Company A, Fifth Infantry, N. G. C., of this city, of which, at the time of his retirement from the service, he was first lieutenant.

snug berths for a few officials. There are about twelve officials, as no native has one. The Cuban Government has collected taxes and not spent a cent, except for salaries.

"Personally, I have just lost $1000, as four and other merchandise, which I brought from Mobile had passed through a warehouse without a roof and nothing to protect the goods from rain. They have refused to repair the dock or roads. We claim rights which were guaranteed us. We have set up as an American territory and and propose to maintain that status. Any person who has in his blood the spirit of the spirit displayed by those in the Boston tea party will sympathize with us in our effort for freedom."

According to the story told by Dunn, he and Harris had trapped many miles together. On arriving in Oakland Dunn says he was very tired and fell asleep at the station. The next thing he remembers was awakening and finding his pockets turned inside out. All that remained in them was a razor and $2.70 in cash, were the principal things lost. He at once communicated his loss to Policeman Murphy, who went in search of Harris. He soon found that worthy making his way to the center of town. The policeman gave chase, finally capturing Harris at the corner of Twenty-second and Magnolia streets.

"Let us hope that nothing of this sort will become necessary, but unless other than the usual means of dealing with the offenders are not devised, this strong action may be resorted to."

PRIEST SCORES AUTOISTS

Declares Man Would be Justified in Killing
Certain Ones.

CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—The Rev. Father P. J. McDonnell of St. Mel's Roman Catholic Church ended an appeal for the most stringent action against "automobile criminals," made to the West Park Board yesterday, by declaring that a man would be justified in killing the "criminal autoist who would crush out his life."

Father McDonnell's appeal was made when he headed a delegation of church members, property-owners and Aldermen who appeared before the Park Board and presented a petition in which demands were made that radical action be taken against autoists.

"That is a strong doctrine to preach, but radical action is needed in dealing with these criminals," said Father McDonnell. "We are here to say that there is a power in this community which is not dependent on mere numbers and that is every man's right to act in self-defense."

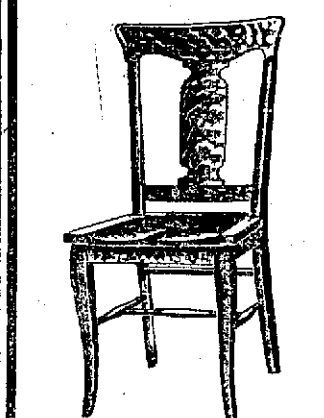

"Let us hope that nothing of this sort will become necessary, but unless other than the usual means of dealing with the offenders are not devised, this strong action may be resorted to."

There will be no amendment grafted on the Maryland Constitution. Marylanders are not ready to surrender the franchise to the whim of fractional election officers.—Pittsburg Gazette.

CONVENTION CALL IS ISSUED

STATEMENT SENT TO ALL UNIONS IN CALIFORNIA FEDERATION.

The following convention call has been issued:
"California State Federation of Labor, headquarters, 927 Market street, room 226, San Francisco, Cal., November 10, 1905. To Affiliated Unions, Greeting: Pursuant to the Constitution of the California State Federation of Labor, you are hereby advised that the sixth annual convention of the California State Federation of Labor will be held at Germania Hall, Seventh and Webster streets, in the City of Oakland, beginning at 9:30 o'clock Monday morning, January 1, 1906, and will continue in session from day to day, until the business of the convention has been completed."

REPRESENTATION.
"Each organization which has been affiliated with the Federation for three months prior to the convention is entitled to representation (based upon the average monthly per capita tax paid into the Federation during the year) as follows:
"Labor unions, two delegates for the first 100 members or less, and one delegate for each succeeding 100 members or major fraction thereof; no union, however, is entitled to more than six delegates. Central labor bodies are entitled to two delegates each."

CREDENTIALS.
"Credentials in duplicate will be forwarded to all affiliated unions. The original credentials must be given to the delegates-elect and the duplicates forwarded to the Secretary-Treasurer of the State Federation, room 226, 927 Market street, San Francisco, to be in his hands not later than December 23, 1905."

RAILROAD RATES.
"The Southern Pacific Railway Company has agreed to make delegates and friends attending this convention of the State Federation of Labor a rate of fare and a third for the round trip from all points to Oakland and return on the certificate plan. Delegates and friends will pay full fare from their starting point to Oakland and receive from their home ticket agent a receipt for the full fare paid. This receipt must be presented to and be countersigned by the Secretary of the State Federation of Labor. FIRST SALE.
The first 100 copies of the 5000 of the special edition of the New York Journal devoted to the strike of the Laundry Workers at Troy, N. Y., just received by the Central Labor Council for sale for the benefit of the workers, were taken by the C. J. Heeseman Co.
CIGARMAKERS.
The Cigarmakers' Union of San Francisco is the originator of the union label in the United States. It was in 1872 that the label was adopted, and since then this method of marking union-made goods has become general. It is also the father of the eight-hour workday, inaugurated in 1855. What the Cigarmakers' Union has done for organized labor is evidenced by the fact that the president of the American Federation of Labor, Samuel Gompers, is a cigarmaker. Wages in the cigar making trade have not been raised since 1894, so that the cigarmakers of San Francisco feel that they are justly entitled to succeed in their present effort in that direction.

FEAR TROUBLE.
NEW YORK, November 15.—Trouble of a serious nature between men and employers in the building trades is not far off, if the predictions of the leaders on both sides amount to anything, says the Herald. There are strong indications that not later than next spring, and perhaps long before that, building industry in New York will be involved in a worse fight than that of 1903.

Many prominent builders are discouraged over the outlook and do not hesitate to express their belief that a stubborn war is inevitable. The difficulty, the Herald says, arises from the refusal of the unions to accept recent decisions of the arbitration board.

DISAGREES WITH DISTRICT ATTORNEY

PLEASANTON, Nov. 15.—The town board last Monday allowed the bill for fees charged for registering births and deaths, in accordance with the following letter:
Sacramento, October 26, 1905.
J. H. Neal, Esq., Town Registrar, Pleasanton, Cal.—Dear Sir: In reply to your letter of the 24th inst., I will say that there is no good reason why your Board of Trustees should be guided in passing on your claim for fees as town registrar by the opinion of the District Attorney. There is an appreciable difference between the position of the County Recorder, who has heretofore been required to report births, marriages and deaths, and that of a town clerk, who has never been required to perform duties at all analogous to those of a town registrar. Moreover, there were certain other complications about the County Recorder's claim which will not arise in your case. So, while I disagree with the District Attorney of Alameda county, I do not see how it is necessary that the payment of your fees need await a reversal of his opinion. Yours very truly, N. K. FOSTER, Registrar.

EXPECTS TO FIND MISSING WILL

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—The Lincoln Trust Company was yesterday appointed temporary administrator of the estate of Mrs. Margaretta Todd, Ingersoll, Lockwood, who died last night. Mrs. Todd's daughter, said last night that this move would unearth important facts within forty-eight hours. She expects to find the missing will of 1906 and other evidence that may explain the aged woman's mysterious death, in Philadelphia October 25.
